Energy Conference Ending In Failure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 13-nation energy conference is ending without deciding who won in the undisguised rivalry between the United States and France on how to deal with the world oil problem.

Serious differences between France and all other participating nations remained Tuesday evening when the conference was supposed to end.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger tried, but failed, to sway his French opposite, Michel Jobert, to give up his opposition to a minor but essential point: the creation of a follow-up mechanism to prepare a second conference where producers and consumers would sit together.

"The question is whether there will be some ongoing action after this conference ends or will it be something that folded up its tent," one American diplomat said.

American and Common Market experts worked Tuesday night to coordinate their separate drafts of a communiqué. There was no immediate indication that Jobert would accept whatever compromise solution the experts produced.

Hearst Demands Taken Seriously

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The father of Patricia Hearst says he is taking "most seriously" the demands of her abductors for $70 of free food for each of California's poor and elderly. He says he will do his best to cooperate.

The kidnapers demanded by letter that Randolph A. Hearst make the distribution of free food before they will even negotiate for the release of his 19-year-old daughter. The food would cost an estimated $175 million.

"I want to get out of here," the 19-year-old hostage said in an 11-minute recording that accompanied the Symbionese Liberation Army demands received by mail Tuesday.

"I just hope you will do as they say, Dad, and do it quickly," she said in a recording addressed to her mother and father. Hearst is president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner and board chairman of the Hearst Corp.

Miss Hearst, kidnapped on Feb. 4, said she had a "few scrapes and stuff" and a cold, but was comfortable and getting medicine.

"I am not being starved or beaten or unnecessarily frightened," she said in a small, tired voice.

The SLA demanded in a long

Yet diplomatic observers and American officials maintained that the conference must end by midday today and that there will be a communiqué, whether France will accept it or not.

Monday, the first day of the conference, exposed the wide gap between France and the United States, the latter supported by a surprising number of France's partners in the Common Market.

The issue boiled down to the fundamental question, will there be transatlantic cooperation in the future or will the United States and Western Europe go their separate ways?

During the first six hours of Tuesday's activity, American officials remained on the sidelines while the Common Market countries caucused.

But in the afternoon Kissinger intervened. He had a one-hour private discussion with Jobert but the only concession he could extract from his French colleague was that the experts should try during the night to come up with a draft communiqué that might be acceptable to all.

Whether they will succeed is yet to be decided.

message that Hearst provide $70 worth of meat and produce for the state's poor, disabled, elderly and formerly imprisoned.

The food would be an "action of good faith," from Hearst, said another voice on the tape, which described Hearst as "the corporate chairman of a fascist-leaning empire of the ultraright Hearst Corp."

The state estimates 2.5 million persons are receiving welfare benefits in California.

Hearst said, "We are, of course, taking the demands most seriously. We are doing all within our power to cooperate."

Regional FBI agent-in-charge Charles Bates said, "This is something Mr. Hearst is going to have to answer.... We are going to do nothing to hassle these people (the SLA). We don't intend to arrest anybody until we feel Miss Hearst is safe."

The tape and latest "communiqué" from the kidnapers was received by Berkeley radio station KPFA.

Miss Hearst was dragged screaming from her apartment near the University of California campus where she is a student by two black men who were accompanied by a young white woman.

Ohio Senate Gets Speed Limit Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State senators turn their attention to political campaign financing today following legislative action Tuesday to lower some Ohioans' income tax and cut the state's speed limits to 55 miles per hour.

Senate Republicans had a vote scheduled on their bill to limit spending for various offices, require full financial disclosure, and set up a new state agency to act as a watchdog over election practices.

Sen. Paul R. Matia, R-25 Westlake, the chief sponsor, apparently had the votes needed for passage even though it faces a confrontation with House majority Democrats who are working on their own bill.

Both parties are committed to some type of campaign reforms as a result of a Watergate-inspired special session late last year that drew an absolute blank.

All of the 99 House seats and 18 of the 33 in the Senate are up for grabs in this election year with an Ohio electorate believed to be super sensitive to political money matters.

Matia's bill, however, fails to go to the issue that caused last year's special session to fail, namely, the placing of controls on corporate and union contributions.

His bill therefore carries a "watered down" tag, but well could represent about all of the reforms that the two parties will be able to agree upon.

In major developments Tuesday: —The Senate added its approval 33-0 to a House bill that reduces the income tax liability for Ohio families of six or more. The measure takes out of the law a $3,000 ceiling on exemptions families may claim on the basis of six dependents at $500 each.

—The House approved 84-8, after a long floor fight over amendments, an emergency measure that lowers Ohio's speed limits from 70 on interstates and 60 on state highways down to 55 miles per hour. A major floor amendment would require the director of insurance to study resulting accident reductions and adjust rates accordingly.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal energy chief William E. Simon criticized budget director Roy L. Ash today for calling the energy crisis a short-term problem and added: "Maybe I should ask Mr. Ash to keep his cotton-pickin' hands off energy policy."

Simon was responding to questions about a statement by Ash, the director of the Office of Management and Budget, that the long lines of cars around gasoline stations and other critical problems resulting from the energy shortage will end this year.

"The shortages will be here for a long time to come," Simon said.

In a brief series of comments on Ash's statements, Simon said sarcastically that perhaps he should call a news conference himself to discuss the budget.

Ash on Tuesday supported President Nixon's belief that the country will break the back of the energy crisis this year, because, Ash said, Americans will adjust to having less fuel.

"If all goes well within this year, we will learn how to live with 7 per cent less energy," Ash said.

The 7 per cent refers to the reduced petroleum supplies resulting from the Arab oil embargo.

Meanwhile, a White House spokesman said President Nixon "is well aware of the situation at gas stations."

Nixon will assess the results of various state mandatory and voluntary allocation plans before recommending any changes in federal gas

Nearly 400 Said Arrested In Truck Halt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nearly 400 drivers arrested in Ohio during the independent truckers' protest face fines or criminal charges, a spokesman for the state Highway Patrol said.

Patrol Maj. Donald E. Manly Jr. said troopers made 393 protest-related arrests between Jan. 24 and Feb. 11 on charges ranging from illegal parking on highways to assault with a deadly weapon.

Manly said the figures do not include arrests by local police or sheriff's officers, nor do they reflect the thousands of dollars in damage to trucks.

He estimated about 10 of the truckers face felony charges which carry a jail sentence. Another 50 are charged with carrying concealed weapons, a charge for which first offense carries a maximum six months or $1,000 fine. A second offense could net up to one to 10 years in jail or a $15,000 fine, or both.

The Highway Patrol will pursue prosecution of the charges — even minor traffic offenses — "diligently to the level of our abilities," Manly said.

The bullets, bricks and harassment were aimed at truckers who continued to haul freight during an attempt by independent drivers to close down the industry and force a fuel price rollback.

The violence forced dozens of businesses in northern and eastern Ohio to close down temporarily, because drivers were afraid to go on the road.

At least three truck drivers were reported injured by gunfire and several more hurt by flying glass from shattered windshields during the strike, the Highway Patrol said.

At least one highway patrolman was injured by broken glass when his windshield was hit, the patrol said.

Early in the protests, several trucks were burned and the state Fire Marshal's office was investigating protest-related arson in the incidents.

rationing policy, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said.

However, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., said he plans legislative action that would force Nixon to implement nationwide rationing.

Weicker predicted that gasoline shortages would become "10 times more uncomfortable and disagreeable this spring and summer."

And the American Automobile Association said that the number of service stations limiting purchases and closing early jumped to new highs this past week.

Weicker said he would move to require a mandatory rationing program when the Senate votes on the

Canal Reopening Pushed By Egypt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Egyptians have begun clearing mines and bombs from the Suez Canal, the first step toward reopening the waterway, the Cairo press reported today.

The reports said President Anwar Sadat of Egypt ordered the clearance of the canal, closed since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, to progress as quickly as possible.

The Egyptian Railroad Authority said repairs already are under way to restore train service between Cairo and the war-shattered cities along the 103-mile canal.

The reopening of the canal was agreed upon by Israel and Egypt as part of their troop disengagement pact signed last month. Israeli sources today reported the beginning of the final stage of the withdrawal of Israeli forces from the west bank of the canal.

The Israeli command said the evacuation was progressing peacefully.

Sadat, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia and Presidents Hafez Assad of Syria and Houari Boumedienne of Algeria were to meet today in Algiers to consider "new and important developments" in the Middle East since the last Arab summit conference in November.

Cairo reported earlier that Sadat was the moving spirit behind the meeting. There was speculation that he wanted to press the others, Faisal in emergency bill next week.

The Federal Energy Office said it is considering beating Congress to the punch on another provision of that bill.

Congress is considering a proposal to roll back the price of oil now exempt from price controls to $7.09 a barrel. The FEO said it is considering setting the price at $7.87.

The price for uncontrolled domestic crude ranges from $9.50 to $10 a barrel.

The FEO also ruled that gasoline stations which sell only to their regular customers are violating federal law.

While Ash was emphatic in saying the crisis will be over this year, he said the problems of developing new energy sources to make the country self-sufficient will remain for years to come.

He said chances that the country would have to resort to direct gasoline rationing were "minimal, little or none. We would like to avoid that if we possibly can."

In other energy developments: —The House today debates legislation to authorize $50 million for a five-year demonstration program of solar heating and cooling of buildings. Use of solar energy would help in the energy crisis.

—Pan American World Airways said it is planning to sue the Federal Energy Office to demand that controls be put on jet fuel for international flights. A spokesman said the company feels it has unjustly been denied domestic fuel because of its large international operations.

55 Injured In Train Explosions

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — "Guys just started jumping for their lives off the side of the embankment into the snow," Mickey Hirtens says of the explosion of six propane-filled rail cars that injured 55 persons.

Hirtens was at the scene of a Delaware and Hudson train derailment near here Tuesday when the first car exploded.

About 20 persons remained hospitalized today, one in critical condition.

"We were about 100 feet from the wreck when ... everything opened up in a great ball of flame coming at you," said Hirtens, a reporter for the Oneonta Star. "A sheet of flame stretched into the sky as far as you could see."

Twenty-five cars and one locomotive of the 122-car train en route from Binghamton to Mechanicville, north of Albany, derailed, said D&H President C. B. Sterzing Jr.

He said the cause of the accident had not been determined.

Sterzing said at least one "shell of a car" was blown about 500 yards across the nearby Susquehanna River, which runs parallel to the tracks.

Hirtens said several cars were tossed across the river by explosions.

"The only thing that stopped them was the south side bank of the Susquehanna River," Hirtens said.

Colder Air Moves In

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Colder weather moving into the western Rockies and the upper Plains and Mississippi Valley today interrupted unseasonable mildness warming most of the nation.

Accompanying the chilliness, light snow fell in the upper Plains and parts of the Great Lakes region. Snow and showers were triggered from the Pacific side of the Rockies to the coast.

Temperatures soared into the 60s Tuesday as far north as Kansas and Iowa and the 50s were common farther north. Even so, readings along the Northern border again fell below zero in sections of North Dakota and Minnesota overnight.

Fair skies were common from the eastern Rockies, through the central and southern Plains to the Atlantic coast, but it was cloudy over the Southwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 6 at International Falls, Minn., to 65 at Brownsville and Corpus Christi, Tex.

But the (Ways & Means) committee feels "it's wise course" to keep the higher exemptions in mind and "to periodically review state finances in the light of the uncertainty of what the future holds," he said.

Rep. Chester T. Cruze, R-22 Cincinnati, convinced the House 60-30 to support his amendment aimed at lowering liability insurance rates if lower energy saving speed limits also serve to cut down on highway accidents, particularly those that result in deaths.

Experience in the 16 states which have lowered their limits to far, he said, shows that a reduction in accidents can amount to 15 or 20 per cent. There is no justification in allowing the insurance companies to reap "windfall profits" as a result of the energy crisis, he asserted.

"Cruze's amendment requires the insurance director to make a study of the effects of the lower speeds and to order liability rates if and when they are justified.

In another floor amendment, the House deleted from the bill a provision that would have cost a driver two points each time he was convicted of violating the new speed limit, un-Ohio's penalty point system.

The emergency bill, which is expected to receive prompt Senate approval, must be enacted by March 3 to keep Ohio from losing federal highway funds estimated at $160 million a year. The law would expire June 30, 1975, and Ohio's current speed limits would be restored then, barring further actions at the federal and state level.

Canal Reopening Pushed By Egypt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Egyptians have begun clearing mines and bombs from the Suez Canal, the first step toward reopening the waterway, the Cairo press reported today.

The reports said President Anwar Sadat of Egypt ordered the clearance of the canal, closed since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, to progress as quickly as possible.

The Egyptian Railroad Authority said repairs already are under way to restore train service between Cairo and the war-shattered cities along the 103-mile canal.

The reopening of the canal was agreed upon by Israel and Egypt as part of their troop disengagement pact signed last month. Israeli sources today reported the beginning of the final stage of the withdrawal of Israeli forces from the west bank of the canal.

The Israeli command said the evacuation was progressing peacefully.

Sadat, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia and Presidents Hafez Assad of Syria and Houari Boumedienne of Algeria were to meet today in Algiers to consider "new and important developments" in the Middle East since the last Arab summit conference in November.

Cairo reported earlier that Sadat was the moving spirit behind the meeting. There was speculation that he wanted to press the others, Faisal in particular, to support his proposal that the oil embargo against the United States be eased.

The Arab oil ministers are meeting in Tripoli, Libya, Thursday. Iraq said it would not attend because it is not participating in the embargo, and Libya is certain to demand that the embargo be strengthened, not eased.

The four chiefs of state in Algiers also were expected to discuss the prospects for Syrian-Israeli negotiations to disengage their troops on the Golan Heights. Sadat has said that such an agreement is necessary before the Geneva peace talks can resume.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said he expects fighting on the Syrian front to continue until a pullback of forces is arranged. He said Israeli positions along the front have been bolstered considerably.

Artillery fire was again heard on the Golan Heights early today, but it was not immediately known if there were any casualties. An intense exchange of shelling on Monday killed an Israeli woman and a policeman.

The Lebanese government asked the Palestinian guerrillas to stop launching operations from Lebanon into northern Israel, sources in Beirut reported. They said the government feared Israeli retaliation. Israel on Monday complained about two recent guerrilla ambushes near the Lebanese border.

Envoy Gives Little Hope Oil Embargo Will End Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A special Arab envoy to the United States Tuesday gave little encouragement for hope for an early end of the Arab oil embargo.

Dr. Clovis Maksoud, a prominent journalist and commentator in the Arab countries may or may not put this country at the top of their priority list if they choose to make reallocations. But, he also said if or when the oil embargo is lifted, the price may drop.

Maksoud was in Columbus on his first stop in a series of nationwide conferences with state officials and business leaders.

Maksoud has been in Washington since January, lobbying with officials and industry leaders to influence American support of Israel in the Middle East conflict.

He said the oil embargo is a "necessary and temporary imposition" until the United States uses its leverage to force Israel to withdraw from all Arab-claimed territory. Maksoud indicated that the Arab countries would not compromise on this demand.

"If we were to compromise on that we would also be compromising on promises made by the United Nations," he said.

He criticized "balance of power" theories in the Middle East, saying "you cannot keep running military arms into Israel to balance it against the demographic and geographic weight of the Arab world."

Maksoud praised Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's efforts in obtaining withdrawal of Israeli troops along the Egyptian front, but said a similar withdrawal along the Syrian line must be affected before economic relations can be resumed.

The envoy encouraged American businessmen to continue their investments and interests in Arab countries.

"We are a rich nation and we will become richer," he said.

"But we are a rich nation with poor people and we need American investments, products and technology in order to develop."

He called on business leaders to take "calculated risks to generate future energy supplies" despite the conflict between Arab states and this country's government.

A major floor amendment would require the director of insurance to study resulting accident reductions and adjust rates accordingly.

In other action, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would authorize county recorders to double and in some cases triple fees charged for titles and other documents. It also gave its approval to Senate bills doing away with income tax liabilities and refunds of less than $1, and exempting soft drinks and syrups made in another state from license fees if that state has a reciprocal agreement with Ohio.

In other action, the Senate passed and sent to the House a bill giving county employees the same 80-hours-a-year vacation pay that state employees now receive after one year of service.

Among five bills introduced in the House was one by Rep. Arthur Bowers, D-98 Steubenville, to transfer $10 million from the general fund to the Department of Transportation for the purpose of helping Ohio's cities develop and improve mass transit systems. The same bill would transfer $50 million for general highway improvements.

In another floor amendment, the House deleted from the bill a provision that would have cost a driver two points each time he was convicted of violating the new speed limit, un-Ohio's penalty point system.

The emergency bill, which is expected to receive prompt Senate approval, must be enacted by March 3 to keep Ohio from losing federal highway funds estimated at $160 million a year. The law would expire June 30, 1975, and Ohio's current speed limits would be restored then, barring further actions at the federal and state level.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP)—Bargain hunting and some apparent hope for a relaxation in Arab oil policies carried the stock market to a moderate gain today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 4.46 at 811.09, and gainers led losers by slightly less than 3 to 2 in continued slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said depressed prices of many issues had encouraged some buying, despite the prospect of a continually slowing economy.

British Petroleum was the Big Board's most-active stock, unchanged at 11½, in trading that included a 102,000-share block.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .31 at 93.00.

Farm equipment stocks showed broad strength.

The Amex volume leader was Day Mines, down ¾ at 10.

The Big Board's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was up .17 at 48.22.

Shrine Club Calendar Reviewed

Nobles of the Pickaway Shrine Club enjoyed a steak dinner, held at Tink's Monday followed by a review of the club's 1974 calendar by President Robert G. Smith.

Following committee reports, Bill Dountz, chairman of the circus committee, informed the club that plans are under way to have a good number of local children attend the Aladdin Shrine Circus as guests of the local club.

Guests attending the meeting were four nobles from the Washington Court House Club, who reviewed the plans for the August 24 ceremonial of the Southeast Shrine Clubs, which their club will host, and three nobles from the Northwest Shrine Club.

Paul Culbertson, past president of the club, died Feb. 9 following a lengthy illness.

Sertoma Club Maps Freedom Week Plans

The Circleville Sertoma Club has designated the week of Feb. 17 as Sertoma Freedom Week.

To start the week's activities, a bronze plaque was presented to the Pickaway County Commissioners who signed a proclamation of Freedom week in Pickaway County.

During the week the local club will install an outdoor billboard poster, distribute book marks to the library and place mats to the local restaurants and copies of the Declaration of Independence to each county and city history class.

A Freedom Week program will be presented at Westfall Junior High School Feb. 19 by Jim Baily, freedom chairman of the Columbus club. A film will be shown on the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Richard Bergman Guest Speaker

"Head Of The House" is the theme for the 10 a.m. Thursday meeting of the social service phase of Community Service Organization at Red Cross chapter house.

Richard Bergman, psychiatrist of Scioto-Point Valley Guidance Center, will supervise a film concerning a family with problems.

A Page Of Opinion

Materials Price Tilt

Oil is not the only world resource which suddenly is becoming worth its weight in gold. Wherever metals or minerals are found, the story is much the same. The underdeveloped countries have discovered that the raw materials they are unable to translate into finished goods will bring higher prices on world markets.

Industrial necessities such as copper, zinc, bauxite, manganese, aluminum, iron, lead, tin, nickel and chromium are consumed in huge quantities. Their prices, almost without exception, are climbing.

In the case of the United States, metal imports have doubled to $10 billion annually in three years. Before the end of the decade they could easily double again. It is price which is doubling, not volume.

It is easy to see what this could mean. Aside from the effects on a nation's balance of payments, which would be disastrous, some of the basic building blocks of industry could be priced out of competition. Copper already has reached a price plateau where it is being replaced by other materials in a wide range of products from housing to automobiles.

At the same time, incentives are growing for the development of new synthetic materials. Preferably those whose raw ingredients are close at hand.

What's Another Billion

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People ... Places
A new estimate of the personal wealth of J. Paul Getty — between $2 billion and $4 billion — appeared in an interview with him on the eve of his contribution of $50,000 to the work of the World Wildlife Fund.

He was not asked directly, "How much are you worth?" Wouldn't have done much good because he has always been delightfully vague about that. A reporter once asked him, "Is it true that you are worth a billion dollars, Mr. Getty?"

J. Paul looked at the newsman with his cool blue eyes and replied "I really don't know. I may be worth a billion. I may be worth two billion. But remember this, young man, a billion dollars isn't what it used to be!"

The oil tycoon and art collector keeps two playful lions in a huge cage on his magnificent estate outside London. (It was once the home of Anne Boleyn, who produced Henry VIII's daughter, Elizabeth, but was subsequently convicted of adultery and incest and beheaded.) Getty also keeps a pack of watchdogs that would have scared Clyde Beatty out of a ring. The octogenarian does not get into London town as much as he once did. But when he does, he generally makes a point of having luncheon alone at Trader Vic's in the Hilton.

It is not true that his house guests are asked to use a pay phone. A pay phone is one of the few things he hasn't got.

Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty is back in the news and, as has been his lot for many years, in a controversial way. He has taken the Vatican to task for announcing his retirement at 81, from his post as honorary primate of Hungary.

He's a brave old Prince of the Church to put a knock on the Pope. But, then, his track record indicates he knows how to take care of himself. Hitler, Stalin and Khrushchev tried to do away with him, a trio of enemies too ominous for words, but he landed on his feet in each instance.

Once, during his years of asylum in the American Legation in Budapest, I made a futile effort to see him. But a friendly ex-FBI man who was his bodyguard filled me in on the old man's life style. Seems that when the Legation was shut down and bolted each night, he would come out of the little suite he occupied and walk through the darkened office wing, for exercise. He'd also turn on the office TV.

"And smoke his cigar," the former agent added.

I went back to the hotel and bought two boxes of the finest Cuban cigars, obtainable because Hungary is a Communist government. Next day I delivered them to the bodyguard. Bodyguard laughed.

"I don't think the cardinal will like them," he said of the precious cheroots. "Since coming here he's learned to smoke White Owls. We get them for him at the PX."

That revolving sound you've been hearing is coming from the mausoleum of Teddy Roosevelt. He's been reading about U.S. plans to turn over the Panama Canal to Panama one of these years.

T.R. did much to foment the secession of the then province of Panama from Mother Colombia. When Colombia sent a gunboat to quell the insurrection, Roosevelt sent a cruiser to quell the gunboat.

Later, in answer to sharp foreign criticism of his heavyhandedness, Roosevelt wrote:

"No other great work now being carried on throughout the world is of such a far-reaching and lasting importance as the Panama Canal. Never before has a work of this kind on so colossal a scale been attempted.

"It must be a matter of pride to every honest American, proud of the

NEW YORK (AP) — John Wayne has done battle many times in the more than 200 films he has made since 1929 — as a Western hero in 150 of them, but, in his latest, "McQ," as a detective.

His biggest battle, however, has been during the last nine years against what he calls the "Big C" — lung cancer.

If he were to put life into one word, he would say "exciting."

"Since that cancer operation, it is awfully nice to wake up in the morning."

His philosophy in short: "I try to live my life to the fullest without hurting anybody else. I try not to unintentionally hurt anybody's feelings. If I do hurt anybody's feelings, I had all intention of hurting them."

He has been a movie star for 43 years and figures he and Jimmy Stewart are the "two top men." He has "No desire at all" to retire and says, "I really enjoy my work. You die if you retire, if not physically, mentally. I am 66 and a hard day's work still appeals to me."

Wayne started acting in high school and gave up aspirations to be a lawyer when he played a part in "Paint Your Wagon."

In 1928, he was on the University of Southern California football team and was put in a film. He says he got great advice from two people in the business, Harry Carey and his wife, Olive. They told him, "You have to become the image of the character in the film." Now, he says, it is tough for kids in the business because "they take a young kid and put him in a picture. There is no continuity of leadership anymore."

He thinks his best quality is that he likes people and respects the other fellow's point of view and his worst fault is that he is more highly emotional than he appears and "given a chance I find myself talking too much."

"My public image has been quite heroic; I feel this like a country boy. I suppose that you tend to manage your life and your thinking in a manner that is expected. I would not want mine to be different."

When asked how he feels about the fact that some people picture him as a flag-waver, the 6 foot 4 "Duke" — as his friends call him — sits tall in the saddle and his blue eyes flash. "It annoys me because I have a normal love for my country. I have been in the public view and when people ask questions, I say what I think. This, country, in 200 years, has taken a wilderness and made it a farm that feeds the world and a factory that defends the world." Wayne was born Marion Michael Morrison in Winterset, Iowa, but left that state at age 4 and has never returned. His father was a pharmacist in Glendale, Calif. He got his nickname as a boy when he walked his dog, Duke, and friends started to call him "Duke."

Dear Mrs. W.:

You are not alone in your apprehension about anesthesia. The fear of this prospect is often greater than the fear of the pain of the surgery itself.

Many patients are terrified by the fact that they will be unable to exercise any control during an unconscious period. People of all cultural, intellectual and economic levels have expressed such anxiety. "Will I die under anesthesia?" "Will I wake too soon?" "How will they know I am completely asleep?" are only a few of the many apprehensions of patients who are about to undergo surgery.

In order to allay such anxiety, the modern anesthesiologist visits his patients one or more times before operations and psychologically prepares them for the experience. In fact, it is accepted that the psychological preparation of all patients is almost as important as the pre-operative studies of the heart, the lungs, and the blood. The emotional state of the patient distinctly influences the smoothness of recovery. It may give you added assurance to

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The American dream has been temporarily suspended while adjustments are made to a new economic world of shortages and rising prices.

In effect, this is the sign now hanging over the American way of life, whose basic approach to problems was premised on the assumption that things might be difficult but never impossible.

That spirit, which pervaded personal and group behavior, now seems to be in a shortfall as critical as that of energy.

Neither can Americans have blind faith, as the immigrants did, that life tomorrow will be better than today, not just for themselves but for their children. There are limits now, just as there are limits to material goods.

Gasoline is being rationed, and that means the summer travel vacation might become just a memory reinforced by old photos. Electricity is expensive, and that means the automated kitchen, dreams of so many housewives, may be terribly inefficient.

That old American custom of working your way up from a small, practical, efficient car in youth to a bigger model when you could afford it has become snared in the energy crunch. Now a small car is the goal.

The idea of upward mobility is suspended as long as inflation rises as fast as wages, which it did in the October-December period, and probably in January as well. No, you don't necessarily improve your lot each year, anymore.

More so even than the automobile, a person's home has been a status symbol. Mobile young couples excused the small frame house they lived in during the first few years of marriage as a "first home."

No further explanation was needed by those who understood faith and ambition. The second home would be larger, in keeping with their growing affluence, although this too might not be the permanent home. That could be even larger.

But now, with prices rising and interest seemingly glued to the heavens, it isn't quite so desirable to step up. The efficiency house, one that is easy to heat and maintain, may now replace the elaborate house.

You vowed that since you didn't get the education you really desired you would make certain your children went to the finest schools, even if you understand the safety record of modern anesthesia. Many surgeons, confronted with a problem such as yours, refer their patients to the anesthesiologists who can more directly allay their fears.

Patients have been known to delay important surgery because of their unexpressed fears. They do themselves a great injustice by not talking out their fears. You are wise to do so.

What happened to the drug DMSO that was so highly touted as the wonder drug of all time?

Mr. J. D., Mich.

Dear Mr. D.:

The drug, dimethyl sulfoxide, or DMSO, was discovered or actually rediscovered, by Dr. Stanley Jacob and Dr. Robert Herschler at the University of Oregon Medical School.

About ten years ago, a great flurry of excitement pointed to the possibility that buritis, arthritis, headaches, migraine, and many diffused diseases would be controlled by DMSO.

During the time this drug was being studied for safety, the optimism about it seemed to diminish.

At present, it seems to have been shelved and "gone back to committee."

I hope the potential value of this substance will not be lost by casual disregard of its potential.

went broke paying for it. You realize now you just might go broke.

That goal mightn't be your kids' goal anyway, because they probably prefer the atmosphere of a relatively new and unstructured community college to the formality and prestige of the big name school.

Nowhere is the suspension more obvious than on the dining room table, where lean red meat was the staple. Americans doubled their consumption of beef between 1960 and 1972, consuming 118 pounds in the latter year.

There was seldom any doubt about the availability of meat and, despite the complaints of high prices, little doubt in many families that they'd always be able to pay the price. Not so now.

Consumer food prices for December, based on an assorted marketbasket of typical purchases, rose 22 per cent above the figure of a year earlier. But dollar volume of food stores rose only 13.4 per cent. Families either did without or stepped down to less expensive grades.

Remember when you really believed there was no limit to what you could buy if you could afford it? That in these United States there was plenty for everyone if they were willing to work for it?

It's something to contemplate as you sit in your car waiting for the line to move, hoping after an hour or so to at least get a glimpse of the gasoline pump.

Materials Price Tilt

Oil is not the only world resource which suddenly is becoming worth its weight in gold. Wherever metals or minerals are found, the story is much the same. The underdeveloped countries have discovered that the raw materials they are unable to translate into finished goods will bring higher prices on world markets.

Industrial necessities such as copper, zinc, bauxite, manganese, aluminum, iron, lead, tin, nickel and chromium are consumed in huge quantities. Their prices, almost without exception, are climbing.

In the case of the United States, metal imports have doubled to $10 billion annually in three years. Before the end of the decade they could easily double again. It is price which is doubling, not volume.

It is easy to see what this could mean. Aside from the effects on a nation's balance of payments, which would be disastrous, some of the basic building blocks of industry could be priced out of competition. Copper already has reached a price plateau where it is being replaced by other materials in a wide range of products from housing to automobiles.

At the same time, incentives are growing for the development of new synthetic materials. Preferably those whose raw ingredients are close at hand.

What's Another Billion

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People ... Places
A new estimate of the personal wealth of J. Paul Getty — between $2 billion and $4 billion — appeared in an interview with him on the eve of his contribution of $50,000 to the work of the World Wildlife Fund.

He was not asked directly, "How much are you worth?" Wouldn't have done much good because he has always been delightfully vague about that. A reporter once asked him, "Is it true that you are worth a billion dollars, Mr. Getty?"

J. Paul looked at the newsman with his cool blue eyes and replied "I really don't know. I may be worth a billion. I may be worth two billion. But remember this, young man, a billion dollars isn't what it used to be!"

The oil tycoon and art collector keeps two playful lions in a huge cage on his magnificent estate outside London. (It was once the home of Anne Boleyn, who produced Henry VIII's daughter, Elizabeth, but was subsequently convicted of adultery and incest and beheaded.) Getty also keeps a pack of watchdogs that would have scared Clyde Beatty out of a ring. The octogenarian does not get into London town as much as he once did. But when he does, he generally makes a point of having luncheon alone at Trader Vic's in the Hilton.

It is not true that his house guests are asked to use a pay phone. A pay phone is one of the few things he hasn't got.

Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty is back in the news and, as has been his lot for many years, in a controversial way. He has taken the Vatican to task for announcing his retirement at 81, from his post as honorary primate of Hungary.

He's a brave old Prince of the Church to put a knock on the Pope. But, then, his track record indicates he knows how to take care of himself. Hitler, Stalin and Khrushchev tried to do away with him, a trio of enemies too ominous for words, but he landed on his feet in each instance.

Once, during his years of asylum in the American Legation in Budapest, I made a futile effort to see him. But a friendly ex-FBI man who was his bodyguard filled me in on the old man's life style. Seems that when the Legation was shut down and bolted each night, he would come out of the little suite he occupied and walk through the darkened office wing, for exercise. He'd also turn on the office TV.

"And smoke his cigar," the former agent added.

I went back to the hotel and bought two boxes of the finest Cuban cigars, obtainable because Hungary is a Communist government. Next day I delivered them to the bodyguard. Bodyguard laughed.

"I don't think the cardinal will like them," he said of the precious cheroots. "Since coming here he's learned to smoke White Owls. We get them for him at the PX."

That revolving sound you've been hearing is coming from the mausoleum of Teddy Roosevelt. He's been reading about U.S. plans to turn over the Panama Canal to Panama one of these years.

T.R. did much to foment the secession of the then province of Panama from Mother Colombia. When Colombia sent a gunboat to quell the insurrection, Roosevelt sent a cruiser to quell the gunboat.

Later, in answer to sharp foreign criticism of his heavyhandedness, Roosevelt wrote:

"No other great work now being carried on throughout the world is of such a far-reaching and lasting importance as the Panama Canal. Never before has a work of this kind on so colossal a scale been attempted."

"It must be a matter of pride to every honest American, proud of the good name of his country, that the acquisition of the Canal and the building of the Canal, in all their details, were as free from scandal as the public acts of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

"Of course there was at the time (the acquisition) much repetition of statements that I acted in an 'un-constitutional' manner, that I 'usurped authority' which was not mine. The simple fact was that when the interest of the American people imperatively demanded that a certain act should be done, and I had the power to do it, I did it unless it was specifically prohibited by law, instead of timidly refusing to do it unless I could find some provision of the law which rendered it imperative that I should do it.

"In other words, I gave the benefit of the doubt to the people of the United States, and not to any group of bandits, foreign or domestic, whose interests happened to be adverse to those of the people of the United States."

Now, under pressure, we'll chuck it.

NEW YORK (AP) — John Wayne has done battle many times in the more than 200 films he has made since 1929 — as a Western hero in 150 of them, but, in his latest, "McQ," as a detective.

His biggest battle, however, has been during the last nine years against what he calls the "Big C" — lung cancer.

If he were to put life into one word, he would say "exciting."

"Since that cancer operation, it is awfully nice to wake up in the morning."

His philosophy in short: "I try to live my life to the fullest without hurting anybody else. I try not to unintentionally hurt anybody's feelings. If I do hurt anybody's feelings, I had all intention of hurting them."

He has been a movie star for 43 years and figures he and Jimmy Stewart are the "two top men." He has "No desire at all" to retire and says, "I really enjoy my work. You die if you retire, if not physically, mentally. I am 66 and a hard day's work still appeals to me."

Elks Lodge Announces "Students Of Month"

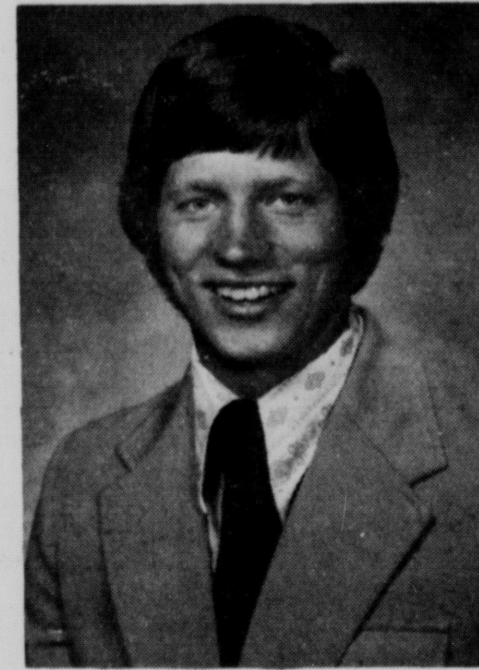

Suzanne Milburn of Circleville High School and Steve Sargent of Logan Elm High School were named the January "Students of the Month" by the Circleville Elks Club today.

Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Milburn, 323 Meadow Lane. A senior, she is active in Girls Athletic Assn., Curtain Callers, Band, Student Council and has participated in many youth civic activities.

SUZANNE MILBURN

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sargent, 240 Pawnee Drive, Logan Elm Village. He is also a senior and is Student Council president. He was a delegate to Buckeye Boys State, co-captain of the LE varsity football team and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

STEVE SARGENT

The two students will be awarded $25 savings bonds by the four Circleville Banks, First National, Second National, Third National and Savings.

Two students will be selected as February "Students of the Month" by the local Elks lodge and then the overall winners will be entered in state competition. The state winners will be announced in May at the Ohio Elks Convention.

Members of the Circleville lodge youth activities committee are: John Fissell, chairman; Bill Trego, Charles Steinhauser and Terry Anderson.

OHIO
Cloudy and colder tonight and Thursday with a chance of snow flurries north. Lows tonight from the mid 20s to upper 30s. Highs Thursday in the 30s and 40s.

NORTHWEST INLAND WEST LAKE SHORE
Cloudy and cooler tonight and Thursday with a chance of snow flurries Thursday. Lows tonight in the mid 20s. Highs Thursday in the low 30s.

WEST CENTRAL CENTRAL EAST CENTRAL SOUTHWEST
Cloudy and colder tonight and Thursday. Lows tonight in the low to mid 30s. Highs Thursday in the upper 30s and low 40s.

SOUTHEAST
Cloudy and cooler tonight and Thursday. Lows tonight in the mid to upper 30s. Highs Thursday in the 40s.

by THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mild weather will continue in Ohio for part of Wednesday before a cold front dropping southward from the Great Lakes area moves through the state this afternoon and evening. Ahead of the front the mercury will climb into the 50s over much of the state and into the 60s in the southeastern counties.

Cloudiness will increase as the front moves in today and some snow flurries are likely in the cold air tonight and Thursday. Temperatures will dip well into the 20s in northern Ohio tonight and to the 30s elsewhere. On Thursday highs will range from the 30s in the north to the 40s in the south.

High pressure from Central Canada will move eastward through the Great Lakes Thursday, pushing the front southward and keeping colder weather over Ohio for the balance of the week.

20 Persons Hurt In Derailment

STRATTON, Neb. (AP) — The four rear cars of an eastbound Amtrak passenger train derailed here Tuesday night. Authorities said about 20 persons were injured, none seriously.

Joe Giesler of Omaha, Nebraska-Iowa service manager for Amtrak, said the three locomotives and the six cars that remained on the track went on to Chicago. He said there were some 200 to 250 passengers aboard the train at the time of the derailment.

YMCA MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN—Jim Edman and John Raterman, 1974 YMCA Membership Campaign Co-chairmen, review one of the many Y program and activities for youth and families of Pickaway County. The campaign will officially kick-off Wednesday at the Annual Meeting. Drive captains and workers will meet for a brief training meeting 9 p.m. Thursday at the Lutheran Parish Hall.

Pope, Gromyko To Meet

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will receive Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in a private audience next week, the Vatican announced today. It will be the third meeting between the Pope and Gromyko, who is making an official visit to Italy.

A-C Board Hires Two For Second Semester

One teacher and one substitute teacher were hired by the Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education at the regular meeting Monday night. Nancy Pettit was employed to teach for the remainder of the current school year and Mrs. Connie Cox was approved as a substitute teacher for the second semester.

Applications are now being considered by the board for the position of head high school varsity football coach.

Barbara Clellan was employed by board action as a regular bus driver half-time for the remainder of the school year. Vernon Furness will drive half-time instead of full time as he has been doing.

The clerk of the board certified the enrollment as of Jan. 10 to be 440 in the high school, 517 at Amanda Elementary and 591 at Stoutsville. These figures give a total of 1,548 for the district.

Discussion was held on the Chevrolet pick-up truck which will be offered for sale at the Clearcreek Township Fire Department auction in March. The board also discussed a citizen's committee to promote the bond issue in May and to add four additional classrooms and a storage area at the Stoutsville building. Other changes planned are converting the present gymnasium at the Amanda-Clearcreek High School into classrooms and building a new physical education gymnasium facility at the Amanda location. Robert Turner offered his services as co-chairman of the citizen's committee.

Approval was given for meetings and activities as requested by the FFA and the FHA.

The board accepted the foreign exchange student Lucia Expendola from Brazil.

Superintendent William A. Smith was authorized as a representative to participate in Title III program which will match district funds in the amount of $1,748.11.

One student was accepted from Circleville on a full time tuition basis. Discussion was held on carpet needed in the Amanda I and I room and the Stoutsville reading room. No action was passed.

Mrs. Grace Young was employed to teach in the Title I Remedial reading room half-time instead of her present capacity. The extra teaching time was made possible due to the additional Federal funding for that program.

Approval was given for attendance of the board members, Superintendent Smith and the clerk to attend the Buckeye Association of School Administrators and the Ohio School Board Association spring meeting scheduled for March 1 and 2.

The board reviewed quotations for mowing tractors.

Appreciation was expressed by the board members to the fourth period biology class for its efforts in compiling information pertinent to the energy crisis.

Board members and district administrators plan to be available at the March Parent-Teacher Organization meetings at Amanda and Stoutsville with any information desired on the bond issue to be placed on the May ballot.

Members present at the Monday meeting were Robert Foster, Maynard Miller, Merlin Wentworth, Elwood Kim and Enos Fausnaugh, president. The clerk of the board, Ann Cole, was also present as were the superintendent and building principals.

Elks Lodge Announces "Students Of Month"

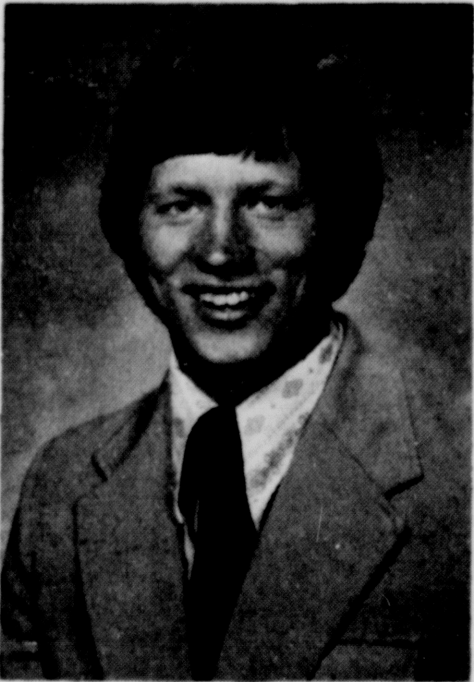

Suzanne Milburn of Circleville High School and Steve Sargent of Logan Elm High School were named the January "Students of the Month" by the Circleville Elks Club today.

Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Milburn, 323 Meadow Lane. A senior, she is active in Girls Athletic Assn., Curtain Callers, Band, Student Council and has participated in many youth civic activities.

SUZANNE MILBURN

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sargent, 240 Pawnee Drive, Logan Elm Village. He is also a senior and is Student Council president. He was a delegate to Buckeye Boys State, co-captain of the LE varsity football team and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

STEVE SARGENT

The two students will be awarded $25 savings bonds by the four Circleville Banks, First National, Second National, Third National and Savings.

Two students will be selected as February "Students of the Month" by the local Elks lodge and then the overall winners will be entered in state competition. The state winners will be announced in May at the Ohio Elks Convention.

Members of the Circleville lodge youth activities committee are: John Fissell, chairman; Bill Trego, Charles Steinhauser and Terry Anderson.

SOUTHWEST
Cloudy and colder tonight and Thursday. Lows tonight in the low to mid 30s. Highs Thursday in the upper 30s and low 40s.

SOUTHEAST
Cloudy and cooler tonight and Thursday. Lows tonight in the mid to upper 30s. Highs Thursday in the 40s.

by THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mild weather will continue in Ohio for part of Wednesday before a cold front dropping southward from the Great Lakes area moves through the state this afternoon and evening.

Ahead of the front the mercury will climb into the 50s over much of the state and into the 60s in the southeastern counties.

Cloudiness will increase as the front moves in today and some snow flurries are likely in the cold air tonight and Thursday. Temperatures will dip well into the 20s in northern Ohio tonight and to the 30s elsewhere. On Thursday highs will range from the 30s in the north to the 40s in the south.

High pressure from Central Canada will move eastward through the Great Lakes Thursday, pushing the front southward and keeping colder weather over Ohio for the balance of the week.

Family Dinner

Meat Loaf, Baked potatoes, Skillet Vegetables, Rolls, Baked Apples, Beverage.

Skillet Vegetables

This revision uses canned, instead of fresh, tomatoes.

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup thin strips onion (3 small)
1 pound (3 small or 2 medium) straightneck yellow squash, unpared and sliced thin

1 green pepper, seeded and cut into thin strips

14 1/2-ounce can sliced baby tomatoes, drained

1 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

1/4 teaspoon ground allspice

In a 10-inch skillet melt 2 tablespoons of the butter; add onion and cook gently until golden. Add remaining butter and remaining vegetables; sprinkle with the seasonings; mix well. Cover and simmer just until squash is tender—about 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

DINNER FOR FOUR

Cream of artichoke soup, veal scallopine, potatoes, green peas, salad bowl, rum cake and beverage.

Cream of Artichoke Soup

Our quick and easy interpretation of an epicurean dish.

9-ounce package frozen artichoke hearts

10 3/4-ounce can condensed chicken broth, undiluted

1/2 cup light or heavy cream

Salt to taste

2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley

Cook the artichoke hearts according to package directions but do not use salt; drain if necessary. Turn into an electric blender with the chicken broth and puree; force through a very fine mesh sieve so there are only a few fibers to discard. Add the cream and heat, stirring occasionally especially around sides of pan. Stir in salt. Sprinkle each serving with parsley. Makes 4 servings. (The color of the soup will be a dull olive but the parsley will brighten the servings.)

Say Nixon Defensive

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson said Tuesday that President Nixon "should have done more to invite competing points of view in difficult decisions of judgement" in dealing with Watergate.

Richardson, speaking in the Ohio University Kennedy Lecture Series, described Nixon as a defensive person. He said the President's response to Watergate "was illustrative of his approach to office" as an embattled President.

Richardson resigned his cabinet post Oct. 20 after refusing to fire special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox.

He described that October weekend as "like sitting in the back of a roller coaster car being pulled by gravitational force I had no control over."

The former attorney general said he didn't foresee the overwhelming response to his resignation and Cox's firing. But he said the scale of the public outcry indicated "there are people out there who really care."

A tablespoon of commercial sour cream contains 25 to 30 calories; a tablespoon of mayonnaise 100 calories. So if you are weight-watching, it's a good idea to mix mayonnaise with sour cream to use on salads.

Lancaster NSA Plans Seminar

Lancaster Chapter of National Secretaries Assn. is presenting a seminar Feb. 23rd at Ohio University, Lancaster Campus.

Dr. Charles Roth of New York is speaker for the affair. Dr. Roth, a consulting psychologist in industry, will use as his topic "Dimension Of Growth-What And Wither."

Registration for the 6th annual Southeastern Ohio Seminar will be open from 8-8:30 a.m. There will be a break for coffee and doughnuts and adjournment is expected at approximately 11:15 a.m. Advance registration may be made to Mrs. Lawrence Pence, 385 Hawthorne Drive, Lancaster, Ohio 43130. Late registration will be accepted at the door with an added fee.

The secretaries and university extend an invitation to all businessmen, women, management personnel, secretaries and any interested individual to hear Dr. Roth speak.

Demolay, Mothers Schedule Dinner

Circleville Chapter Order of DeMolay and Mothers Club met Monday evening in the Masonic Temple with Larry Schieber, master councilor, presiding.

Plans were made for a ham and bean supper to be held from 5-7:30 p.m. on March 23rd in the dining room of the Masonic Temple. Tickets will be available from any DeMolay or Mothers Club member. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

At the close of the meeting, members, guests and mothers were served refreshments by Mrs. Ed Hart.

The Mother's Club will have a special meeting Feb. 25th at the same time as the DeMolay. Mothers will finalize plans for the supper and make posters.

ORDINANCE NO. 931 AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING THE PORTION OF WORK IN NORTH END STORM SEWER DISTRICT NO. 1 REQUIRED FOR IMMEDIATE USE, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY

WHEREAS, there has heretofore been prepared the general plan and amended general plan for the storm sewerage of North End Storm Sewer District No. 1 and published notice of the preparation of such plans has been given and thereafter this Council adopted Ordinance No. 924 confirming said amended general plan;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That this Council hereby finds and determines that the portion of the work provided for in said amended general plan which is required for immediate use and it is hereby determined to now construct is comprised of the following together with all necessary appurtenances:

A storm sewer with inlets and manholes, at the following location:

Beginning at the existing storm sewer in Center Alley at Station Street; thence extending eastward in Station Street as a 30" sewer to the alley east of Long Street; thence northward in the alley approximately 760 feet to the south line of a 2.2-acre tract of Austin Guirlinger; thence continuing as a 24" sewer northward approximately 320 feet and eastward approximately 150 feet through the land of Austin Guirlinger; thence continuing as an 18" sewer northward across the land of George R. Cloud and the Teays Valley Board of Education approximately 600 feet. Also a 24" sewer in Glen Road and Glen Road extended beginning at the above described sewer and extending eastward 360 feet; thence continuing eastward in Glen Road as an 18" sewer 580 feet to a point in Walnut Street, extended; thence continuing as a 12" sewer 310 feet to a point in Hoover Avenue and then terminating.

Section 2. That it is hereby found and determined that the construction of such work shall be carried out as a single improvement with one resolution, ordinance and contract.

Section 3. That the Consulting Engineers of the Village be and they are hereby authorized and directed to prepare the detailed plans, specifications and estimate of cost for the portion of the work required for immediate use.

Section 4. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the further reason that it is urgently necessary to provide for the storm sewerage of the aforesaid district to eliminate conditions therein which would be hazardous to the health and property of the residents and to preserve and protect the health and property of the residents thereof; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.

Seek Slayers At Delphos

DELPHOS, Ohio (AP) — Van Wert County sheriff's deputies continue to seek two men who shot and killed two persons and wounded a third during a robbery Tuesday.

Deputies said David L. Stemen of Middleport and Valbert Kelch of St. Henry, were killed by shots in the head with a .22-caliber revolver. Another victim, Mrs. Wilbur Wolfcale, was wounded in the head, deputies said. She was listed in good condition at the Van Wert County Hospital.

Mrs. Wolfcale, an employe of the Cactus Bar and Grill; Stemen, a customer, and Kelch, a beverage truck driver, were shot by two gunmen who then escaped with an undetermined amount of money, deputies said.

Deputies said the three were found by a customer about 15 minutes after the robbery.

Junior Women Discuss Events

Coming events were discussed during the February meeting of Circleville Junior Women's Club in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Sherman, Wilmar Drive.

Mrs. John Farthing opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag. Mrs. Jean Holycross read a selection entitled "Dishes."

Mrs. Alice Dennis presented a program on arts and crafts. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Moana Jarvis and Mrs. Nancy Fisher.

Mrs. Richard Wylie was selected to be the club candidate for the "Fastest Gun In The West" contest in conjunction with Berger Hospital Guilds' "High Fever Follies."

Marsha Hall, co-chairman for April, announced the club will have a card party in the Parish House of St. Philip's Episcopal Church with all proceeds given to the Kidney Foundation.

Upon discussion of Husband's Night, it was decided to bowl at Circle D Lanes in May. Barbara O'Shaunessy reported there will be no candidates for the OFWC Sewing Contest this year.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served by co-hostesses, Linda Ward and Marsha Hall.

The next meeting will be held March 7th at the home of Mrs. John Farthing, 558 N. Pickaway St.

Pythian Sisters Plan Inspection

Majors Temple 516 Pythian Sisters met Thursday evening in the K of P hall with Opal Vance, most excellent chief, presiding. Roll call was answered by 25 members.

Kay Graham, DDGC, will be presiding officer for inspection planned for April 4th.

The transfer of Eva Glassford from Rose Forester Temple of Lancaster to Majors Temple was accepted. Mrs. Glassford is presently residing at the Medina Pythian Sisters Home.

Honored for birthdays during February were Ota Lovett, Mabel Smith, Opal Vance and Pauline Smallwood. The evening's prize was won by Della Wertman and brought by Ruth Griest.

A letter was read from Francile Peters of the Sunshine Girls regarding a recent convention of the organization.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by Julia Burton and Jane Winfough.

Appointed to serve on the refreshment committee for the Feb. 21st meeting are Mabel Smith and Pauline Smallwood.

'Think Metric' Busy Bees Lesson

"Think Metric" was the lesson presented by Mrs. Charles Walters for the Tuesday afternoon meeting of Roundtown Busy Bees Extension Club. Mrs. Lloyd Kittle was co-hostess for the session in the home of Mrs. John Downs, 555 Lawnwood Court.

Mrs. Noble Barr, vice president, presided over the business meeting. A valentine theme was carried out in refreshments.

Attending were: Mrs. Orren Stout, Mrs. Hillis Hall, Mrs. C. C. Schwarz, Miss Adella Huffman, Miss Maggie Mavis, Mrs. Daniel Eitel, Mrs. V. D. Kerns, Mrs. Harry Lane.

Mrs. Nora Noise, Mrs. T. D. Hatfield, Mrs. Charles Walters, Mrs. Noble Barr, Mrs. John Downs and Mrs. Lloyd Kittle.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Nora Noise with Mrs. Daniel Eitel as co-hostess.

Elizabeth Circle To Meet Thursday

Mrs. Dave Goldschmidt, 901 Atwater Ave., will entertain Elizabeth Circle of Community United Methodist Church in her home 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Family Dinner
Meat Loaf, Baked potatoes, Skillet Vegetables, Rolls, Baked Apples, Beverage.

Skillet Vegetables
This revision uses canned, instead of fresh, tomatoes.

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup thin strips onion (3 small)
1 pound (3 small or 2 medium) straightneck yellow squash, unpared and sliced thin

1 green pepper, seeded and cut into thin strips
1 1/2-ounce can sliced baby tomatoes, drained

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice

In a 10-inch skillet melt 2 tablespoons of the butter; add onion and cook gently until golden. Add remaining butter and remaining vegetables; sprinkle with the seasonings; mix well. Cover and simmer just until squash is tender—about 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

DINNER FOR FOUR
Cream of artichoke soup, veal scallopine, potatoes, green peas, salad bowl, rum cake and beverage.

Cream of Artichoke Soup
Our quick and easy interpretation of an epicurean dish.

9-ounce package frozen artichoke hearts
10 3/4-ounce can condensed chicken broth, undiluted

1/2 cup light or heavy cream
Salt to taste
2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley

Cook the artichoke hearts according to package directions but do not use salt; drain if necessary. Turn into an electric blender with the chicken broth and puree; force through a very fine mesh sieve so there are only a few fibers to discard. Add the cream and heat, stirring occasionally especially around sides of pan. Stir in salt. Sprinkle each serving with parsley. Makes 4 servings. (The color of the soup will be a dull olive but the parsley will brighten the servings.)

Say Nixon Defensive

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson said Tuesday that President Nixon "should have done more to invite competing points of view in difficult decisions of judgement" in dealing with Watergate.

Richardson, speaking in the Ohio University Kennedy Lecture Series, described Nixon as a defensive person. He said the President's response to Watergate "was illustrative of his approach to office" as an embattled President.

Richardson resigned his cabinet post Oct. 20 after refusing to fire special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox. He described that October weekend as "like sitting in the back of a roller coaster car being pulled by gravitational force I had no control over."

The former attorney general said he didn't foresee the overwhelming response to his resignation and Cox's firing. But he said the scale of the public outcry indicated "there are people out there who really care."

A tablespoon of commercial sour cream contains 25 to 30 calories; a tablespoon of mayonnaise 100 calories. So if you are weight-watching, it's a good idea to mix mayonnaise with sour cream to use on salads.

Lancaster NSA Plans Seminar

Lancaster Chapter of National Secretaries Assn. is presenting a seminar Feb. 23rd at Ohio University, Lancaster Campus.

Dr. Charles Roth of New York is speaker for the affair. Dr. Roth, a consulting psychologist in industry, will use as his topic "Dimension Of Growth-What And With."

Registration for the 6th annual Southeastern Ohio Seminar will be open from 8-8:30 a.m. There will be a break for coffee and doughnuts and adjournment is expected at approximately 11:15 a.m. Advance registration may be made to Mrs. Lawrence Pence, 385 Hawthorne Drive, Lancaster, Ohio 43130. Late registration will be accepted at the door with an added fee.

The secretaries and university extend an invitation to all businessmen, women, management personnel, secretaries and any interested individual to hear Dr. Roth speak.

Demolay, Mothers Schedule Dinner

Circleville Chapter Order of DeMolay and Mothers Club met Monday evening in the Masonic Temple with Larry Schieber, master counselor, presiding.

Plans were made for a ham and bean supper to be held from 5-7:30 p.m. on March 23rd in the dining room of the Masonic Temple. Tickets will be available from any DeMolay or Mothers Club member. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

At the close of the meeting, members, guests and mothers were served refreshments by Mrs. Ed Hart.

The Mother's Club will have a special meeting Feb. 25th at the same time as the DeMolay. Mothers will finalize plans for the supper and make posters.

ORDINANCE NO. 931
AN ORDINANCE DETERMINING THE PORTION OF WORK IN NORTH END STORM SEWER DISTRICT NO. 1 REQUIRED FOR IMMEDIATE USE, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, there has heretofore been prepared the general plan and amended general plan for the storm sewerage of North End Storm Sewer District No. 1 and published notice of the preparation of such plans has been given and thereafter this Council adopted Ordinance No. 924 confirming said amended general plan;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That this Council hereby finds and determines that the portion of the work provided for in said amended general plan which is required for immediate use and is hereby determined to now construct is comprised of the following together with all necessary appurtenances:

A storm sewer with inlets and manholes, at the following location:

Beginning at the existing storm sewer in Center Alley at Station Street; thence extending eastward in Station Street as a 30" sewer to the alley east of Long Street; thence northward in the alley approximately 760 feet to the south line of a 2.32-acre tract of Austin Guirlinger; thence continuing as a 24" sewer northward approximately 320 feet and eastward approximately 150 feet through the land of Austin Guirlinger; thence continuing as an 18" sewer northward across the land of George R. Cloud and the Teays Valley Board of Education approximately 600 feet. Also a 24" sewer in Glen Road and Glen Road extended beginning at the above described sewer and extending eastward 360 feet; thence continuing eastward in Glen Road as an 18" sewer 580 feet to a point in Walnut Street; thence continuing as a 12" sewer 310 feet to a point in Hoover Avenue and then terminating.

Section 2. That it is hereby found and determined that the construction of such work shall be carried out as a single improvement with one resolution, ordinance and contract.

Section 3. That the Consulting Engineers of the Village be and they are hereby authorized and directed to prepare the detailed plans, specifications and estimate of cost for the portion of the work required for immediate use.

Section 4. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the further reason that it is urgently necessary to provide for the storm sewerage of the aforesaid district to eliminate conditions therein which would be hazardous to the health and property of the residents and to preserve and protect the health and property of the residents thereof; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.

Seek Slayers At Delphos

DELPHOS, Ohio (AP) — Van Wert County sheriff's deputies continue to seek two men who shot and killed two persons and wounded a third during a robbery Tuesday.

Deputies said David L. Stemen of Middleport and Valbert Kelch of St. Henry, were killed by shots in the head with a .22-caliber revolver. Another victim, Mrs. Wilbur Wolfcale, was wounded in the head, deputies said. She was listed in good condition at the Van Wert County Hospital.

Mrs. Wolfcale, an employee of the Cactus Bar and Grill; Stemen, a customer, and Kelch, a beverage truck driver, were shot by two gunmen who then escaped with an undetermined amount of money, deputies said.

Deputies said the three were found by a customer about 15 minutes after the robbery.

Didn't Have A Prayer

By JIM BISHOP

Attending the races with the Bishops is always a hilarious event. My father once looked over an immense crowd at Monmouth Park and said: "Isn't anybody working?" He liked the beauty of racetracks, but couldn't stand horses. "You've met sore losers? Shake hands with a sore winner."

Last week, Kelly and I took a priest with us. We were going to visit Gulfstream, so I invited Father Joseph Kerr of Perth Amboy, N.J. He was reluctant, explaining that he hadn't been to a track in 14 years. It may be another 14 before he goes again.

Kerr is a handsome man, with the white hair a cleric earns serving a parish for 25 years. We had lunch at the turf club, and he thought the London broil was "grand." We had field glasses, programs, "The Morning Telegraph" complete with past performance charts, and eight tip sheets.

Everything that could confuse an unwary priest was there. In addition, he was addicted to seeing "signs" in certain names. "When I got up this morning, the sun and the sky were about as beautiful as anything I have ever seen," he said. So, in the first race, he bet Highland Morn. Besides, the jockey had a holy name: Gene St. Leon.

How could he lose? Highland Morn came out of Gate 4 like a rocket. The rocket fizzled in the stretch. Slow horses passed Highland Morn as though he was an iron hitching post. The $2 went. In the second, Father liked Game Alibhai and Strong Son. There was something about the four gate that Kerr liked, so he bet $2 on Strong Son. He led all the way, and was beaten by Game Alibhai.

"What do you say, Kelly?" he said. "We'll be partners." This cut the wager to $1. With that kind of money he'd do better at bingo. To insure the cash, they bet the $2 on Number Four to place—Kildepper Lady.

She ran a grand race. We watched it from a box. "Maybe if I root one home," the priest said. The kid with the saintly name, Gene St. Leon, was up, and he brought Kildepper Lady up the stretch in front. At the eighth pole, she began to think. The more she thought of running her little heart out, the less she thought of it.

Third. "You know," Father said casually, between clenched teeth, "it is exactly 14 years since—" "I know," I said. "Who do you like in the fifth?" He liked Number Four, Positive Ruler. "Was there ever this many horses who led all the way, and then lost at the wire?" he said. "If you took us to lunch," I said, "it would cost more than the few bucks you're dropping." "I mean—"

They were off. Positive Ruler ran like a frightened burglar. He was so fast the breeze closed his nostrils. Aroyoport won it. "Frankly, Jim," he said, "racing isn't my game." His partner, Kelly, said: "You're telling me!"

The four horse had to win sometime. In the sixth, the two brave handicappers had to recoup, so they played a long shot—Euphoric. "I'll bet you," said Father Kerr, "the Euphoric will be winning until he reaches the stretch." "Nothing doing," I said. "You put the whammy on horses."

Father excused himself. He sneaked an extra $2 on Stanley the Great, because Stanley is the bartender at The Castaways, and Stanley married one of Father's parishioners from Perth Amboy. Sturdy Steel won. Ironically, Stanley the Great was beaten in the final strides.

Kerr looked like an accident victim in an emergency room. In the 7th race, he decided to quit betting Number Four—there was something akin to the tolling of bells in the five horse—Last Saint. It was 15 to 1, and Gene St. Leon was up. A silent prayer went to St. Jude who, I surmise, was at a heavenly otologist's office getting the wax blown from his ears. He heard nothing.

Number 4, Soaked, won the race. Father hadn't lost more than it costs to buy a tank of gasoline, but he looked like a man who has just slapped a third mortgage on his church. He was numb. We cherish Father Kerr, but he went to Prince Terrell in the 9th.

"He's in the outside gate, Father. He'll have to break fast to get to the rail." No response. The bell clanged. The horses came out. Prince Terrell broke fast, headed to the rail, and broke his leg.

Father Kerr walked out. Some horses have all the luck . . .

Ethics Chief Sees Big Job Ahead

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Forty-seven-year-old Robert Raines can boast 20 years training for his new job as chairman of the fledgling Ohio Ethics Commission.

Raines has been an ordained Methodist minister for that long. He is currently pastor of an interdenominational church in Columbus.

As a successful candidate for a Doctor of Theology degree, Raines pored over many ethical questions and dilemmas in school textbooks.

In the months to come, he will preside over a six-member panel that must arbitrate ethical difficulties involving Ohio's public officials.

"I think they will not be easy matters," he said.

Reliance on a supreme being may be necessary, he said and then quipped, "We're going to use every hot connection we have."

The 110th General Assembly passed a state code of ethics last year covering elected officials from the governor to city councilmen and a host of public officeholders.

The aim of the measure, which took effect in December, is to prevent and correct conflicts of interests among officials discharging the duties of the people.

The law also set up the commission, which began work without compensation in January.

As chairman, Raines will preside over the panel consisting of a law school dean, two attorneys, a retired state representative and newspaper publisher and an economic development expert.

"I am glad to have the chance to directly participate in government," said Raines, a registered Democrat. "The time is ripe."

"I think the Watergate scandals simply heighten and sharpen the necessity of what we do. And we must do it carefully, deliberately, wisely and openly."

He added, "In the aftermath of Watergate, we have more public concern which we shouldn't lose."

Monday Club Sponsors Scholarships

By VANESSA LONG

Each year the Monday Club of Circleville acts as a sponsoring organization that makes certain scholarship applications available to the four Pickaway County High Schools.

The scholarships being offered are the Elaine Wieman Memorial Scholarship for any student who qualifies and is interested in Communication Arts. The Penny Art Scholarship will be given to a student interested in art; The Ethel Swanbeck Nursing scholarship will go to a deserving student interested in nursing; and The Annette Phelps Lincoln Scholarship will be awarded to young women interested in preparing for the field of education, or library work.

Each school may have one application form for each scholarship. The deadline is Feb. 11.

WHS Band Looks Toward Busy Schedule

By VANESSA LONG

The members of the Westfall Concert Band are busily preparing for several contests and their annual mid-winter concert.

The concert will be held Mar. 21, with the time being announced at a later date.

The concert and lab bands will travel Mar. 9 to Columbus West High School for the solo and ensemble contest. Several members will be in Class A, an equivalent to state competition. They will be rated on 1-5 scale.

Mr. Kibby, WHS band director, is looking for the band's first "superior" rating at the District Band Contest which will be held March 23. The band has captured several "excellent" ratings in the past.

The Mustang Country staff wish them Good Luck!

Mr. Larry Dow, Columbus, is the new industrial arts teacher, replacing Mr. Jeff Tracy.

Mr. Dow graduated from Ohio State University with a BA in Industrial Arts, and a BS degree in history.

At Westfall, the young teacher is kept busy with classes of mechanical drawing, metal shop, and junior high construction classes.

The personable young man commented that he finds country school students more independent and easier to teach than those students in urban areas.

Mr. Dow is an avid backpacker and hiker. He also enjoys photography in his spare time.

Heart Suit Developed

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A pair of inflatable leggings soon may help some heart patients survive severe cardiogenic shocks, a sudden loss of blood to the heart muscles.

The rubberized leggings are a series of five connected, inflatable collars. They are synchronized to squeeze blood back toward the heart between heartbeats.

The device is the first designed to be applied completely outside the body, and it eliminates the present need for dangerous surgery on seriously weakened patients, according to Dr. Lawrence S. Cohen.

It will be used on the first cardiogenic shock patient within about six months, said Cohen. He is chief of cardiology at Yale-New Haven Hospital. He has supervised development of the leggings over the past six years.

Dr. Rene Langou, Cohen's assistant, presents a formal report on the project today to the American College of Cardiology in New York City.

NEBRASKA GRANGE

At the February session of Nebraska Grange the Fourth Degree was exemplified on two candidates, Mrs. Ray Noecker and Donald Forquer. The work was put on by the officers with Ray Noecker, master in charge.

During the business session reports were heard from Legislative agent Joseph Peters and Carl Bennett, insurance agent, discussed no-fault insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bumgarner of Scioto Valley Grange were present and gave a report as delegates to the Ohio State Grange annual session.

A special certificate of recognition was presented to A. Ray Plum for over 70 years of membership in Nebraska Grange during which time he has served various offices including master of the grange. He has nearly a perfect attendance record for the 70 years. The presentation was made by his grandson and present master of the grange, Ray Noecker. Silver certificates for 25 years in the grange were presented to John C. Hedges by his mother, Mrs. Fred W. Hedges and to Mrs. Herman Hines by her son, Roger Schneider.

Refreshments were served in the dining room to the 28 members and guests present by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hines and Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas.

The March session will be held the first Tuesday in March with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pontius, Mr. George Dennis and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barr on the hospitality committee.

Judge Nixes Introduction Of Voodoo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The court was bedeviled when a defense lawyer asked to have the defendant examined by a voodoo doctor or an exorcist.

"What's a voodoo doctor," Circuit Court Judge Dan Satin asked at a hearing Monday.

"One who by training and apprentice and research has learned about the powers of voodoo," replied defense lawyer David Cerf.

Cerf pointed out that the defendant, Harvey Lee Outler, had been determined competent to stand trial for the murder of his common law wife but the evaluating doctor said Outler believed he was under a curse.

Cerf said Outler, 36, believed that Mable Young, 31, had used roots to put a curse on him. Police say Outler shot Mrs. Young in the face with a pistol April 13.

"Your honor, a voodoo curse is just as deadly as a threat with a gun," Cerf said. And he showed the judge a list of persons he called "voodoo doctors, exorcists, or other experts."

Satin said: "I respect any man's rights. But if you think I'm going to appoint a voodoo doctor, you've got another think coming."

Cerf's motion was denied.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

It's Legal

DEAR ABBY: I have a question I think is very important. My sister was married last April and I don't think she was really married. She was standing on the wrong side.

Shouldn't the bride be on the groom's left to make it legal? Well, my sister was standing on the groom's right. I was her matron of honor and I stood on her right instead of her left.

Is this marriage legal?

FRANKFURT, IND. DEAR FRANK: As long as they were both standing up, of legal age and in their right minds, it doesn't matter who stood where-they are married.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is friendly with a man who works with him. They play golf together. My husband and I go out with this man and his wife occasionally, but she's really not my type (she talks a lot and I am rather quiet) so I seldom see her unless it's with our husbands.

Yesterday she dropped in on me unexpectedly and invited me over for lunch, and immediately started to regale me with all her intimate marital problems. I was astonished because I didn't know she had that kind of trouble. Wanting to remain completely neutral and uninvolved, I hardly said a word. She did all the talking, but I could see she was irritated with me because I didn't side with her.

All the while she was telling me what a heel her husband was I was getting more uncomfortable, but there was no changing the subject.

This has never happened to me before. How does one handle such a situation?

STICKY WICKET

DEAR STICKY: As soon as it becomes apparent that you have been selected as a waiting wall, say: "I sympathize, but you need an objective, impartial counselor, and because our husbands are such good friends, I'd rather not hear about all this." It's blunt but it beats listening. After you've listened (interested or not) you'll be considered an ally.

DEAR ABBY: I think it's about time girls got over this ridiculous hangup of refusing to give a guy a goodnight kiss. A goodnight kiss is just an expression of thanks. Why hurt a guy's feelings by turning him down? There are all kinds of kisses. A goodnight kiss is one way of saying, "Thanks for taking me out and spending your hard-earned money on me."

A SENSITIVE GUY

DEAR SENSITIVE: Sorry, but I don't believe a girl should kiss a guy for taking her out and spending his hard-earned money on her. She might prefer to give him the cash and call it square. A kiss should say, "I like you," not "Thank you."

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Armstrong Co-Sponsors Legislation

State Senator Harry L. Armstrong (R-17th District) is joining with eight other senators to introduce legislation to repeal a recently enacted law which applied unemployment compensation benefits to part-time public school non-teaching employees.

Armstrong said unless existing law is repealed, about 39,000 part-time school employees will be covered by unemployment compensation during summer months.

These 39,000 school employees include bus drivers, cafeteria workers, and custodial workers. When they were hired, they knew their jobs would terminate at the end of the school year.

Armstrong said, "Unemployment compensation is intended to assist those who become involuntarily unemployed, not those who agree to work for certain limited periods of time and know from the beginning that their services will not be needed during the summer vacation."

Estimates of the cost of this new coverage have risen as high as $15 million.

Whatever the cost, it will have to be paid through local real estate property taxes or additional tax revenue from the state.

Senator Armstrong said, "Last session, I was forced to vote against the original unemployment compensation bill for this very reason."

The bill will be opposed by the AFL-CIO and the Ohio Education Association; but Armstrong commented, "This represents a drastic change in unemployment compensation policy and should be given a full hearing before appropriate committees of the Senate and the House."

The other sponsors are Senators Michael J. Maloney, Theodore M. Gray, Charles P. Bolton, Max H. Dennis, William Mussey, Paul Gillmor, Paul Matia, and Thomas Van Meter.

Nixon Rips Washington Newspapers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, out for dinner on the eve of his annual medical examination, unexpectedly attacked two Washington newspapers while chatting in a crowd.

He was asked how he had enjoyed the 90th birthday party of Alice Roosevelt Longworth, which he had attended earlier Tuesday.

To the surprise of onlookers, the President made these comments:

"Mrs. Longworth had kept young by not being obsessed by the Washington scene. You know, if she had spent all her time reading the (Washington) Post she would have been dead by now — or the Star (Washington Star-News) for that matter."

And he said Mrs. Longworth, the daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt and his first wife, "sees the world. She brings people in from all over and, as a result, she keeps young by not being obsessed with the miserable political things that all of us unfortunately think about in Washington, by thinking about those great issues that will affect the future of the world, which the Post unfortunately seldom writes about in a responsible way." Roosevelt also had a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Derby of Oyster Bay, L.I., by his second wife.

The President was in an expansive mood after the dinner, which was a 58th birthday celebration for his physician, Dr. Walter Tkach.

Fair Showed Profit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1973 Ohio State Fair showed a profit of $19,911.08 on income of $2.67 million, according to a report filed with the state auditor's office. That was more than double the profit of $7,051 reported in 1972.

Campaign Contribution Bill Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio may be near a breakthrough into the area of public financing of political campaigns with a bill being sponsored by Rep.

Donald J. Pease, D-54 Oberlin. His bill to allow Ohioans to deduct $5 campaign contributions from their annual income tax bills was heard for the first time Tuesday by the House Elections Subcommittee.

Rep. Don S. Maddux, D-90 Lancaster, committee chairman, indicated afterward he expects the panel to recommend passage at a meeting next week.

"It carries a price tag of about $3 million," said Maddux, adding that the subcommittee expects to hear next week from the Office of Budget and Management as to the bill's impact on state revenues.

Pease's bill allows a one-time annual contribution to a political candidate, party, or cause. Married couples may give a total of $10 if they file a joint return.

"The mechanics of the bill are simple," Pease said. "In addition, my plan creates no new bureaucracy, since the program can be totally integrated into existing methods," he added.

The Lorain County legislator stressed that a taxpayer desiring to make a contribution and deduct it from his tax must obtain a receipt "or some sort of verification" to use as proof when filing his tax return.

Estimates as to the amount of revenue the state would lose under the plan vary because, as the sponsor pointed out, there is no accurate way to determine how many taxpayers may choose to participate, at least in the first year.

However, a comparison based on a similar tax credit plan in Oregon produced a projection by the Legislative Service Commission of $600,000 to $1 million. The Department of Taxation estimate was $3.2 million. Pease's personal prediction was $1 million to $3 million.

He said he is aware that there must be some concern about the cost of the proposal. But he said "by encouraging small donations from individuals, politicians will not have to rely so heavily on huge contributions from powerful special interest groups."

Pease noted that a campaign financing bill introduced late last month by Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, "appropriated my exact plan for inclusion in a GOP package" of reforms. That was "a bipartisan gesture," Pease said.

The Oberlin Democrat's measure stands alone as a reform proposal. It is not connected to any of the other campaign finance packages floating around in the legislature, including a second GOP proposal up for a vote today in the Senate.

Army National Guard Back At Strength For 1st Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard climbed back to its authorized strength last month for the first time since the draft ended.

Guard officials credited the surge in enlistments to a major recruiting effort in all the states.

A new report listed 403,600 men and women enrolled in the Army National Guard in January. This was 3,600 over the target level.

Like the regular Army, the Guard suffered when the government stopped drafting young men. Hundreds of thousands of youths had joined the Guard during the Vietnam war to escape the draft. Most did not re-enlist when their terms ran out.

As enrollment sagged below 400,000, doubts were voiced that the Guard could fill its ranks in a climate of disenchantment with things military as a result of the Vietnam experience.

But it appears the Guard's selling drive is succeeding, aided perhaps by the economic downturn.

Asked why young men are signing up in the Army Guard, Pentagon officials said they are attracted by extra income from paid drills and by the opportunity for training in skills that could help in getting civilian jobs.

"We're getting a very different kind of kid now," one official said. "They are coming more from the blue collar group, from lower income families."

"We used to have an awful lot of college kids who just went through the motions."

In addition to accelerated recruitment of new volunteers, Pentagon officials said there has been dramatic improvement in the re-enlistment of trained and experienced guardsmen.

They claim all this translates into a better-motivated Army Guard than in recent years.

The January report showed that the Air National Guard, which never had a recruiting problem, is holding its strength with 92,870 men and women. That is about 400 over strength.

Derby News

Mrs. Mae Delay, recently released from Doctor's Hospital North, is now home recuperating from surgery.

Sorry to hear that Harold Furniss of Harrisburg has been in the hospital. All his Derby friends wish him well.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Vincent of Rt. 3, Orient became proud parents of a son on Jan. 27.

The Southwest Community Church of the Nazarene have added nursery service to their Sunday services each week to make it possible for more parents to better enjoy the services. A new Sunday school class is being created for young adults, called the "Pairs and Spares Class". Available space and a teacher are needed for this class of 19 to 30-year-olds.

Beginning March 3, there will be a Children's Church during morning worship. Tom Cochran will be the director.

Sunday school teachers attended a teacher's and officer's meeting on Monday to help each teacher become a more effective "key" in our Sunday school.

Dates for the Columbus school of Religion are Feb. 18, 19, 21, and 22. Classes will be held at the Wilson Avenue Nazarene Church.

The Lenten season begins on Feb. 27, to prepare for the Easter celebration. A special service will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Derby United Methodist Church. Everyone in the parish is welcome. Holy Communion will be a part of the event.

The Administrative Board of the Derby United Methodist Church met on Jan. 12 at the Church. New officers of the Board for 1974 are: Miss Chubb White, chairman; Mrs. Inez Peterson, secretary. The next meeting is scheduled for March 12, 7 to 9 p.m. All are welcome to attend.

New meeting times for the Derby Cherub and Junior Choirs are: Junior-Mondays, 3 to 3:30 p.m. and Cherub-Mondays 3:30 - 4 p.m.

In February, the youth of the Derby United Methodist Church are meeting the first three Sunday evenings 7 to 8:30 p.m. for recreation, films, and refreshments. The Children's Hour began on Feb. 7th. Cookies donated by anyone wishing to help are welcome, so please call Ruth Thelma White at 877-4487.

For fellowship and study, the group which meets 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday evenings or on Wednesdays from 11:30 to 1 p.m. in the afternoon are for you. Come join us.

Mrs. Marie Bowsher was a happy grandmother Jan. 29. Her granddaughter Miss Debbie Bowsher was assigned to a job under the Social Service at the Orient State Institute. Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home. (Not the grapefruit diet!).

This is, honestly, a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $3.00 ($3.25 for Rush Service) - cash is O.K. - to: NATIONAL HEALTH INSTITUTE, P.O. Box 39, Dept. 16, Durham, Calif. 95938. Don't order unless you want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do. c 1972 the first time Tuesday by the House Elections Subcommittee. Rep. Don S. Maddux, D-90 Lancaster, committee chairman, indicated afterward he expects the panel to recommend passage at a meeting next week.

"It carries a price tag of about $3 million," said Maddux, adding that the subcommittee expects to hear next week from the Office of Budget and Management as to the bill's impact on state revenues.

Pease's bill allows a one-time annual contribution to a political candidate, party, or cause. Married couples may give a total of $10 if they file a joint return.

"The mechanics of the bill are simple," Pease said. "In addition, my plan creates no new bureaucracy, since the program can be totally integrated into existing methods," he added.

The Lorain County legislator stressed that a taxpayer desiring to make a contribution and deduct it from his tax must obtain a receipt "or some sort of verification" to use as proof when filing his tax return.

Estimates as to the amount of revenue the state would lose under the plan vary because, as the sponsor pointed out, there is no accurate way to determine how many taxpayers may choose to participate, at least in the first year.

However, a comparison based on a similar tax credit plan in Oregon produced a projection by the Legislative Service Commission of $600,000 to $1 million. The Department of Taxation estimate was $3.2 million. Pease's personal prediction was $1 million to $3 million.

He said he is aware that there must be some concern about the cost of the proposal. But he said "by encouraging small donations from individuals, politicians will not have to rely so heavily on huge contributions from powerful special interest groups."

Pease noted that a campaign financing bill introduced late last month by Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, "appropriated my exact plan for inclusion in a GOP package" of reforms. That was "a bipartisan gesture," Pease said.

The Oberlin Democrat's measure stands alone as a reform proposal. It is not connected to any of the other campaign finance packages floating around in the legislature, including a second GOP proposal up for a vote today in the Senate.

Army National Guard Back At Strength For 1st Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard climbed back to its authorized strength last month for the first time since the draft ended.

Guard officials credited the surge in enlistments to a major recruiting effort in all the states.

A new report listed 403,600 men and women enrolled in the Army National Guard in January. This was 3,600 over the target level.

Like the regular Army, the Guard suffered when the government stopped drafting young men. Hundreds of thousands of youths had joined the Guard during the Vietnam war to escape the draft. Most did not re-enlist when their terms ran out.

As enrollment sagged below 400,000, doubts were voiced that the Guard could fill its ranks in a climate of disenchantment with things military as a result of the Vietnam experience.

But it appears the Guard's selling drive is succeeding, aided perhaps by the economic downturn.

Asked why young men are signing up in the Army Guard, Pentagon officials said they are attracted by extra income from paid drills and by the opportunity for training in skills that could help in getting civilian jobs.

"We're getting a very different kind of kid now," one official said. "They are coming more from the blue collar group, from lower income families."

"We used to have an awful lot of college kids who just went through the motions."

In addition to accelerated recruitment of new volunteers, Pentagon officials said there has been dramatic improvement in the re-enlistment of trained and experienced guardsmen.

They claim all this translates into a better-motivated Army Guard than in recent years.

The January report showed that the Air National Guard, which never had a recruiting problem, is holding its strength with 92,870 men and women. That is about 400 over strength.

Derby News

Mrs. Mae Delay, recently released from Doctor's Hospital North, is now home recuperating from surgery.

Sorry to hear that Harold Furniss of Harrisburg has been in the hospital. All his Derby friends wish him well.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Vincent of Rt. 3, Orient became proud parents of a son on Jan. 27.

The Southwest Community Church of the Nazarene have added nursery service to their Sunday services each week to make it possible for more parents to better enjoy the services. A new Sunday school class is being created for young adults, called the "Pairs and Spares Class". Available space and a teacher are needed for this class of 19 to 30-year-olds.

Beginning March 3, there will be a Children's Church during morning worship. Tom Cochran will be the director.

Sunday school teachers attended a teacher's and officer's meeting on Monday to help each teacher become a more effective "key" in our Sunday school.

Dates for the Columbus school of Religion are Feb. 18, 19, 21, and 22. Classes will be held at the Wilson Avenue Nazarene Church.

The Lenten season begins on Feb. 27, to prepare for the Easter celebration. A special service will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Derby United Methodist Church. Everyone in the parish is welcome. Holy Communion will be a part of the event.

The Administrative Board of the Derby United Methodist Church met on Jan. 12 at the Church. New officers of the Board for 1974 are: Miss Chubb White, chairman; Mrs. Inez Peterson, secretary. The next meeting is scheduled for March 12, 7 to 9 p.m. All are welcome to attend.

New meeting times for the Derby Cherub and Junior Choirs are: Junior-Mondays, 3 to 3:30 p.m. and Cherub-Mondays 3:30 - 4 p.m.

In February, the youth of the Derby United Methodist Church are meeting the first three Sunday evenings 7 to 8:30 p.m. for recreation, films, and refreshments. The Children's Hour began on Feb. 7th. Cookies donated by anyone wishing to help are welcome, so please call Ruth Thelma White at 877-4487.

For fellowship and study, the group which meets 7 to 8:30 p.m. Monday evenings or on Wednesdays from 11:30 to 1 p.m. in the afternoon are for you. Come join us.

Mrs. Marie Bowsher was a happy grandmother Jan. 29. Her granddaughter Miss Debbie Bowsher was assigned to a job under the Social Service at the Orient State Institute. Maryland Faces N.C.

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Maryland Terrapins make beautiful music on the national scale, but only play second fiddle in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Lefty Driesell hopes to do something about that tonight against North Carolina — in the high note of the Terrapin season.

"Our whole season won't depend on this game," says Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell, "but a win would give us a lot of confidence and a chance to tie for second in the ACC."

The Terrapins have been trailing both North Carolina State and North Carolina all season. They're No. 6 in the country but only third in their own backyard.

"I think North Carolina has the best over-all talent in our league," says Driesell of the fourth-ranked Tar Heels. "They don't have a David Thompson, the super star of North Carolina State, but they have a lot of outstanding personnel."

In limited action Tuesday night, only one of the nation's ranked teams played and 11th ranked Providence nipped stubborn Brown 75-73 in double overtime.

Playing with four fouls, Marvin Barnes hit on a 22-foot jumper with five seconds left in the second overtime period to lift the Friars over their crosstown rivals.

Barnes, who had scored with about a minute left in regulation time to tie the score at 61, finished with 28 points. The nation's leading rebounder also had 27 rebounds and five blocked shots.

Elsewhere in college basketball, Owen Mahorn scored 24 points to help Fairfield beat St. Bonaventure 82-75; Scott Wedman had 21 points in Nebraska's 65-64 victory over Colorado; Harvard beat Dartmouth 72-63 behind Ken Wolfe's 21 points; Johnny Blakney hit a free throw in the final seconds of overtime to lead TCU over Texas 72-71; Bob McCurdy scored 32 points to lead Richmond over Virginia Tech 90-86; Texas Tech trimmed Arkansas 89-83 as Rick Bullock scored 25 points and grabbed 21 rebounds; Bruce Grimm had 26 points in Furman's 91-59 beating of Citadel and John Sagehorn hit long jump shots in the final minute to lift SMU over Texas A&M 70-68.

Fairmont State 1st In Basketball Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fairmont State Coach Joe Retton claims the Falcons are handicapped by poverty. Yet they're not poor in victories — 21 straight — or in national recognition — ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press college division basketball poll.

The Falcons — who, in the estimate of 24 of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters polled, are the nation's best small college — ousted the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga as No. 1 in the poll released Tuesday.

The Falcons, who have won 20 or more games in each of Retton's 11

Tigers Top Heidelberg; Win 75-51

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wittenberg maintained its hold on first place in the Ohio Conference basketball standings Tuesday night by whipping Heidelberg 72-51.

Muskingum, meanwhile, made undisputed claim of second place by dumping Capital 50-41.

Wittenberg improved its league mark to 10-1 as Eddie Ford and Jim Evans pitched in 13 points apiece and Don Lynam added 12. But game scoring honors went to Larry Remmer of Heidelberg (6-6) with 18 points.

Guard Gene Ford scored 22 points in leading the Muskies to their ninth victory in 11 conference contests. Gene Caslin netted 15 points for Capital, now 8-3.

In another OC game, Oberlin downed Kenyon 73-60 behind the 30-point performance of Jimmy Jones. Oberlin now is 2-8 in the league and Kenyon is 3-9.

Elsewhere, Central State defeated neighbor Wilberforce 97-79 for the second time this season. Malone beat Ashland as Mark Klein pumped in 27 points, and Defiance walloped Ohio Dominican 102-71, thanks to 28 points by Bob Martin and 24 by Bruce Baer.

Utah Stars Top Pacers; Win 114-91

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

What does Joe Mullaney, whose first-place Utah Stars hold an 11-game edge over the next best in the West and are working on an 11-game winning streak, worry about?

"Our lead went down to 15 early in the (fourth) quarter," Mullaney said. "One more basket by them and I would have put some of our regular people back in there."

Mullaney's regulars ran away from Indiana, building a 85-64 lead after three periods. After a small scare, his irregulars went on to post a 114-91 American Basketball Association decision over the Pacers Tuesday night.

In the only other ABA game, the Denver Rockets overpowered the Virginia Squires 125-112.

Utah's 11th consecutive triumph, which set a club record, is the longest winning streak in the ABA this season and it moved the Stars to an 11-game lead over the idle San Antonio Spurs, 11½ games over Denver and 12 games over Indiana.

Bulls Bomb Bucks; Win Tilt 93-81

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Bob Love led the Chicago offense, then the cheerleading for the Bulls defense.

"I really think our defense won for us tonight," said Love, whose 34 points helped the Bulls to a 93-81 National Basketball Association victory over the Milwaukee Bucks Tuesday night. "What I'm really proud of is that we held a team like Milwaukee to only 81 points. That's quite a feat."

The triumph pulled the Bulls within two games of the Bucks, who lead the Midwest Division.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Detroit Pistons remained 1½ games behind second-place Chicago with a 113-106 decision over the Kansas City-Omaha Kings; the Capital Bullets downed the Cleveland Cavaliers 107-99; the New York Knicks trimmed the Buffalo Braves 100-93; the Portland Trail Blazers tripped the Phoenix Suns 113-104; the Boston Celtics beat the Golden State Warriors 107-102, and the Houston Rockets defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 129-119.

Atlanta Flames Beat New York Islanders

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

"You've been here before," Atlanta Coach Bernie Geoffrion told goalie Phil Myre. "You know what it's all about. I don't have to tell you what to do. Go get 'em!"

Geoffrion was right. Myre did exactly what he had to do, throttling the New York Islanders 4-1 Tuesday night, regaining his own confidence and enabling the Flames to regain the share of the West Division's fourth-place berth they gave away last Sunday.

Report OU Coach Snyder Has Quit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The burning question around the Mid-American Conference: Has Ohio University's Jim Snyder become the second basketball coach to resign this season?

The Canton, Ohio, Repository reported in its Tuesday editions that Snyder tried to resign Jan. 31 in a letter to the school's athletic director, Bill Rohr.

The newspaper quoted a source close to the team that Rohr and Claude R. Sowle, the school's president, talked Snyder into finishing his 25th season at his alma mater.

Snyder would neither confirm or deny the story.

"I'm sorry it came out now," he told The Associated Press.

"The only thing I'm concerned about is the Mid-American race. We're going to finish the race."

Snyder, the Canton newspaper said, told his team he was quitting after an 80-79 loss at Toledo Saturday night that knocked the Bobcats into a second-place tie with Bowling Green.

"For the next 3½ weeks, I'm going to have fun," a source close to the team quoted Snyder as saying. "I'll give you (the team) everything I've got."

Snyder, a Canton native and Ohio University graduate, has compiled 349-234 coaching record with the Bobcats.

Ohio, however, has lost three of its last four MAC games and Snyder said, "Naturally I've been upset. I've never been a gracious loser."

Rohr, a former basketball coach at Miami and Northwestern, denied receiving a resignation letter from Snyder.

"I do not have a letter from Coach Snyder so there's no move for me to make," the Ohio athletic director said. "He will be the basketball coach here just as long as he desires to be."

Frank Truitt, the coach of last place Kent State, quit under fire Jan. 26 before his team's home game with Western Michigan. The Flashes scored their only conference victory 82-66 over the Broncos after Truitt's announcement.

"It wasn't my decision," Truitt said. "I was told to resign."

Oakland A's In Arbitration

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "We've been underpaid too long," said Reggie Jackson, one of the Oakland A's stars waiting to face owner Charles O. Finley across the arbitration table.

Pitcher Ken Holtzman, a 20-game

winner last baseball season, was first on the list and his hearing Tuesday lasted seven hours. A 15-minute wrapup session was scheduled today.

"I would have stayed 12 hours if I thought it would help," said the left-hander, who is seeking about $100,000.

Reliever Rollie Fingers' hearing began late Tuesday and bullpen partner Darold Knowles was scheduled for a hearing today before the arbitrator, Howard S. Block of Los Angeles.

Other arbitrators were hearing cases in New York and Chicago today involving players and their teams unable to reach agreement under baseball's standard system of negotiating contracts. More than 50 players — nine from the A's — have submitted their names for arbitration. Pitchers Dave McNally of Baltimore, Tommy John of Los Angeles and Ken Brett of Pittsburgh and infielders Fred Patek and Cookie Rojas of Kansas City and Graig Nettles of the New York Yankees are said to be among them.

Dick Woodson, a 28-year-old pitcher for the Minnesota Twins, had the distinction Monday of becoming the first player to have his salary dispute aired before a neutral arbitrator. "I'm glad I'm the first case. It's sort of setting the ground rules for others," said Woodson, who reportedly earned $19,000 with the Twins last year.

"This system is very fair. Both parties have a good opportunity to present their views before an impartial third party," said attorney Jerry Kapstein, representing Holtzman, Fingers and Knowles.

Under the arbitration system, which became available to players only this year, the arbitrator must select either the salary figure offered by the club or that requested by the player.

"For the first time, a player does not have to be in the position of either accepting the owner's figure or finding a new way to make a living," said Marvin Miller, head of the Players' Association, who is attending the hearings here.

Jackson and Sal Bando are shooting for more than $100,000 each. Joe Rudi, Gene Tenace, Ted Kubiak and Jack Heidemann are the other Oakland players involved.

Tiger Eighth, Ninth Grade Cagers Win

The Circleville freshman and eighth grade basketball teams both won games played Tuesday against Chillicothe J. A. Smith.

Coach Darrell Young's freshmen won a real close game, 52-51, behind the 20 point scoring of Bill Mogan. Mearle Logan hooped 10, Rusty Holbrook eight, Brian Fath eight, Frank Merrill four and Brian Price two for the frosh who now have a 12-2 record. Thursday they host Whitehall.

The eighth graders turned in an outstanding defensive effort in turning back J. A. Smith white team 45-32. The little Tigers were ahead 39-18 at the end of three quarters.

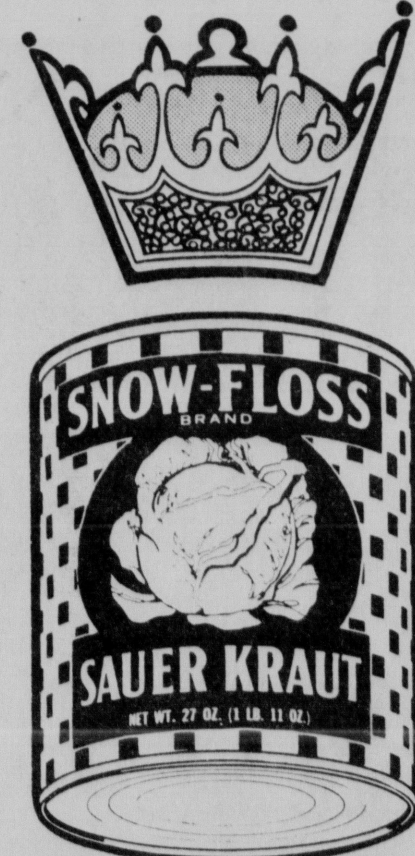

Toren Bensonhaver tallied 15, Dave Marshall nine, Dave Holbrook eight, Larry Reed seven, Roy Huffer four and Marc Albright two for the winners.

The eighth graders have a 10-3 record. Coach Jim Diltz reported he is looking for a junior high tournament he can enter the squad in. This is the end of the regular season games.

TV Eighth Graders Defeat Hamilton Twp.

The Teays Valley eighth grade basketball team defeated visiting Hamilton Twp. 36-33 Tuesday to end the season with a 7-6 record.

Dwane Hettinger scored 15 points, Ronnie Little 12 and Dennis Werner nine for the Vikings.

CHS Reserve Wrestlers Defeat DeSales, 33-21

The Circleville reserve wrestling squad defeated DeSales reserves 33-21 Tuesday.

"I was very pleased with the reserves in the way they all never gave up and wrestled aggressively and extremely well," coach Brent Bell reported. "This was the last meet for the reserves and they really made it count. We expanded our overall reserve program this year and with the way they all have improved our program can only keep going up from here on."

In the 98-pound class Brian Augustine of Circleville pinned Dixon in 3:24. Tom Marshall dropped a close 6-5 decision to Smith of DeSales in the 105-pound class.

Tony Dray came from behind in the last period to decision Palmerini 5-4 to take the 112-pound class for the Tigers. In the 119-pound class, Randy Swoyer of Circleville lost to Marinelli 5-0. Circleville forfeited the 126-pound class. In the 132-pound class Circleville's Jeff Lackey lost to Borghese 9-3.

In the 138-pound class Jim Heacock of Circleville lost to Walker 7-0. Pat McNaughton gave the Tigers a win in the 145 pound class pinning Rossi of DeSales in 1:04. Tom Strawser of Circleville lost to Cua of DeSales 2-0 in the 155-pound class.

At 167 pounds, Bruce Brudzinski pinned Murmane of DeSales in 2:33.

At 175 John Stout, who doubles as trainer for the Tiger wrestlers, decided Burrell of DeSales, 12-3. At 185 pounds, Tom England of Circleville decided Mayer 8-2. Scott Bowman took the heavyweight match pinning Craig in 1:16.

Circleville will host the South Central Ohio League match beginning 1 p.m. Saturday at the high school. In addition to Circleville, teams competing will be Miami Trace, Wilmington, Hillsboro and Madison Plains. Washington C.H. and Greenfield do not have wrestling programs.

Washington C.H. Top Seed In Unioto Tourney

Washington C. H., the number one team in the South Central Ohio League, was the top seed in the Unioto Sectional tournament.

The sectional there is scheduled Feb. 22, 23, 27, 28. On Feb. 22 Jackson and Oak Hill play and on Feb. 23 Greenfield and Wellston tangle.

On Feb. 27 Washington C. H. plays the winner of the Oak Hill-Jackson game and on Feb. 28 Hillsboro plays the winner of the Wellston-Greenfield game. All games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Miami Trace plays in the AAA sectional at Rio Grande and meets Marietta Feb. 28. Marietta has an 11-5 record and Trace 10-6.

Maryland Faces N.C.

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
The Maryland Terrapins make beautiful music on the national scale, but only play second fiddle in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Lefty Driesell hopes to do something about that tonight against North Carolina — in the high note of the Terrapin season.

"Our whole season won't depend on this game," says Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell, "but a win would give us a lot of confidence and a chance to tie for second in the ACC."

The Terrapins have been trailing both North Carolina State and North Carolina all season. They're No. 6 in the country but only third in their own backyard.

"I think North Carolina has the best over-all talent in our league," says Driesell of the fourth-ranked Tar Heels. "They don't have a David Thompson, the super star of North Carolina State, but they have a lot of outstanding personnel."

In limited action Tuesday night, only one of the nation's ranked teams played and 11th ranked Providence

nipped stubborn Brown 75-73 in double overtime.

Playing with four fouls, Marvin Barnes hit on a 22-foot jumper with five seconds left in the second overtime period to lift the Friars over their crosstown rivals.

Barnes, who had scored with about a minute left in regulation time to tie the score at 61, finished with 28 points. The nation's leading rebounder also had 27 rebounds and five blocked shots.

Elsewhere in college basketball, Owen Mahorn scored 24 points to help Fairfield beat St. Bonaventure 82-75; Scott Wedman had 21 points in Nebraska's 65-64 victory over Colorado; Harvard beat Dartmouth 72-63 behind Ken Wolfe's 21 points; Johnny Blakney hit a free throw in the final seconds of overtime to lead TCU over Texas 72-71; Bob McCurdy scored 34 points to lead Richmond over Virginia Tech 90-86; Texas Tech trimmed Arkansas 89-83 as Rick Bullock scored 25 points and grabbed 21 rebounds; Bruce Grimm had 26 points in Furman's 91-59 beating of Citadel and John Sagehorn hit long jump shots in the final minute to lift SMU over Texas A&M 70-68.

Fairmont State 1st In Basketball Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fairmont State Coach Joe Retton claims the Falcons are handicapped by poverty. Yet they're not poor in victories — 21 straight — or in national recognition — ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press college division basketball poll.

The Falcons — who, in the estimate of 24 of the nation's sports writers and broadcasters polled, are the nation's best small college — ousted the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga as No. 1 in the poll released Tuesday.

Tigers Top Heidelberg; Win 75-51

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wittenberg maintained its hold on first place in the Ohio Conference basketball standings Tuesday night by whipping Heidelberg 72-51.

Muskingum, meanwhile, made undisputed claim of second place by dumping Capital 50-41.

Wittenberg improved its league mark to 10-1 as Eddie Ford and Jim Evans pitched in 13 points apiece and Don Lynam added 12. But game scoring honors went to Larry Remmer of Heidelberg (6-6) with 18 points.

Guard Gene Ford scored 22 points in leading the Muskies to their ninth victory in 11 conference contests. Gene Caslin netted 15 points for Capital, now 8-3.

In another OC game, Oberlin downed Kenyon 73-60 behind the 30-point performance of Jimmy Jones. Oberlin now is 2-8 in the league and Kenyon is 3-9.

Elsewhere, Central State defeated neighbor Wilberforce 97-79 for the second time this season. Malone beat Ashland as Mark Klein pumped in 27 points, and Defiance walloped Ohio Dominican 102-71, thanks to 28 points by Bob Martin and 24 by Bruce Baer.

Utah Stars Top Pacers; Win 114-91

By FRED ROTHENBERG

AP Sports Writer
What does Joe Mullaney, whose first-place Utah Stars hold an 11-game edge over the next best in the West and are working on an 11-game winning streak, worry about?

"Our lead went down to 15 early in the (fourth) quarter," Mullaney said. "One more basket by them and I would have put some of our regular people back in there."

Mullaney's regulars ran away from Indiana, building a 85-64 lead after three periods. After a small scare, his irregulars went on to post a 114-91 American Basketball Association decision over the Pacers Tuesday night.

In the only other ABA game, the Denver Rockets overpowered the Virginia Squires 125-112.

Utah's 11th consecutive triumph, which set a club record, is the longest winning streak in the ABA this season and it moved the Stars to an 11-game lead over the idle San Antonio Spurs, 11½ games over Denver and 12 games over Indiana.

years as coach of the West Virginia school, received 754 total points in the balloting to 566 for UT-Chattanooga, 17-2, which dropped to second. In third was Alcorn A&M, 19-2, with 479 points. Kentucky Wesleyan, 15-3, was fourth with 433 points.

Old Dominion, 17-4, which had three first-place votes, was fifth with 334 total points. UT-Chattanooga was the only team in the top five to lose a game, an 89-78 beating by Eastern Illinois.

Although there were no newcomers in the top 15, Morgan State, 18-3, registered the biggest upset of the ranked small colleges by beating Maryland-Eastern Shore last week 72-70, and rocketed from 13th to ninth in the poll. Eastern Shore last week was ranked 20th among the nation's major colleges.

Meanwhile, Tennessee State, 15-3, and Evansville, 15-5, traded spots in the poll — Tennessee State moving from seventh to sixth and Evansville dropping a notch. Wittenberg, 16-2, held down the eighth spot again this week, and New Orleans, 15-4, climbed from 11th to 10th.

Also in the poll were No. 11 Roanoke, 17-4, last week 14th; No. 12 Jackson State, 17-3, from 10th; No. 13 Midwestern, 21-3, from ninth; No. 14 Armstrong State, 15-4, from 12th, and No. 15 Augustana, Ill., 19-3, tied last week for 15th with Sam Houston State.

Bulls Bomb Bucks; Win Tilt 93-81

By FRED ROTHENBERG

Bob Love led the Chicago offense, then the cheerleading for the Bulls defense.

"I really think our defense won for us tonight," said Love, whose 34 points helped the Bulls to a 93-81 National Basketball Association victory over the Milwaukee Bucks Tuesday night. "What I'm really proud of is that we held a team like Milwaukee to only 81 points. That's quite a feat."

The triumph pulled the Bulls within two games of the Bucks, who lead the Midwest Division.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Detroit Pistons remained 1½ games behind second-place Chicago with a 113-106 decision over the Kansas City-Omaha Kings; the Capital Bullets downed the Cleveland Cavaliers 107-99; the New York Knicks trimmed the Buffalo Braves 100-93; the Portland Trail Blazers tripped the Phoenix Suns 113-104; the Boston Celtics beat the Golden State Warriors 107-102, and the Houston Rockets defeated the Los Angeles Lakers 129-119.

Atlanta Flames Beat New York Islanders

By BRUCE LOWITT

AP Sports Writer
"You've been here before," Atlanta Coach Bernie Geoffrion told goalie Phil Myre. "You know what it's all about. I don't have to tell you what to do. Go get 'em!"

Geoffrion was right. Myre did exactly what he had to do, throttling the New York Islanders 4-1 Tuesday night, regaining his own confidence and enabling the Flames to regain the share of the West Division's fourth-place berth they gave away last Sunday.

Report OU Coach Snyder Has Quit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The burning question around the Mid-American Conference: Has Ohio University's Jim Snyder become the second basketball coach to resign this season?

The Canton, Ohio, Repository reported in its Tuesday editions that Snyder tried to resign Jan. 31 in a letter to the school's athletic director, Bill Rohr.

The newspaper quoted a source close to the team that Rohr and Claude R. Sowle, the school's president, talked Snyder into finishing his 25th season at his alma mater.

Snyder would neither confirm or deny the story.

"I'm sorry it came out now," he told The Associated Press.

"The only thing I'm concerned about is the Mid-American race. We're going to finish the race."

Snyder, the Canton newspaper said, told his team he was quitting after an 80-79 loss at Toledo Saturday night that knocked the Bobcats into a second-place tie with Bowling Green.

"For the next 3½ weeks, I'm going to have fun," a source close to the team quoted Snyder as saying. "I'll give you (the team) everything I've got."

Snyder, a Canton native and Ohio University graduate, has compiled 349-234 coaching record with the Bobcats.

Ohio, however, has lost three of its last four MAC games and Snyder said, "Naturally I've been upset. I've never been a gracious loser."

Rohr, a former basketball coach at Miami and a northwestern, denied receiving a resignation letter from Snyder.

"I do not have a letter from Coach Snyder so there's no move for me to make," the Ohio athletic director said. "He will be the basketball coach here just as long as he desires to be."

Frank Truitt, the coach of last place Kent State, quit under fire Jan. 26 before his team's home game with Western Michigan. The Flashers scored their only conference victory 82-66 over the Broncos after Truitt's announcement.

"It wasn't my decision," Truitt said. "I was told to resign."

Oakland A's In Arbitration

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "We've been underpaid too long," said Reggie Jackson, one of the Oakland A's stars waiting to face owner Charles O. Finley across the arbitration table.

Pitcher Ken Holtzman, a 20-game

winner last baseball season, was first on the list and his hearing Tuesday lasted seven hours. A 15-minute wrapup session was scheduled today.

"I would have stayed 12 hours if I thought it would help," said the left-hand, who is seeking about $100,000.

Reliever Rollie Fingers' hearing began late Tuesday and bullpen partner Darold Knowles was scheduled for a hearing today before the arbitrator, Howard S. Block of Los Angeles.

Other arbitrators were hearing cases in New York and Chicago today involving players and their teams unable to reach agreement under baseball's standard system of negotiating contracts. More than 50 players — nine from the A's — have submitted their names for arbitration. Pitchers Dave McNally of Baltimore, Tommy John of Los Angeles and Ken Brett of Pittsburgh and infielders Fred Patek and Cookie Rojas of Kansas City and Graig Nettles of the New York Yankees are said to be among them.

Dick Woodson, a 28-year-old pitcher for the Minnesota Twins, had the distinction Monday of becoming the first player to have his salary dispute aired before a neutral arbitrator. "I'm glad I'm the first case. It's sort of setting the ground rules for others," said Woodson, who reportedly earned $19,000 with the Twins last year.

"This system is very fair. Both parties have a good opportunity to present their views before an impartial third party," said attorney Jerry Kapstein, representing Holtzman, Fingers and Knowles.

Under the arbitration system, which became available to players only this year, the arbitrator must select either the salary figure offered by the club or that requested by the player.

"For the first time, a player does not have to be in the position of either accepting the owner's figure or finding a new way to make a living," said Marvin Miller, head of the Players' Association, who is attending the hearings here.

Jackson and Sal Bando are shooting for more than $100,000 each. Joe Rudi, Gene Tenace, Ted Kubiak and Jack Heidemann are the other Oakland players involved.

Tiger Eighth, Ninth Grade Cagers Win

The Circleville freshman and eighth grade basketball teams both won games played Tuesday against Chillicothe J. A. Smith.

Coach Darrell Young's freshmen won a real close game, 52-51, behind the 20 point scoring of Bill Mogan.

Mearle Logan hooped 10, Rusty Holbrook eight, Brian Fath eight, Frank Merrill four and Brian Price two for the frosh who now have a 12-0 record. Thursday they host Whitehall.

The eighth graders turned in an outstanding defensive effort in turning back J. A. Smith white team 45-32. The little Tigers were ahead 39-18 at the end of three quarters.

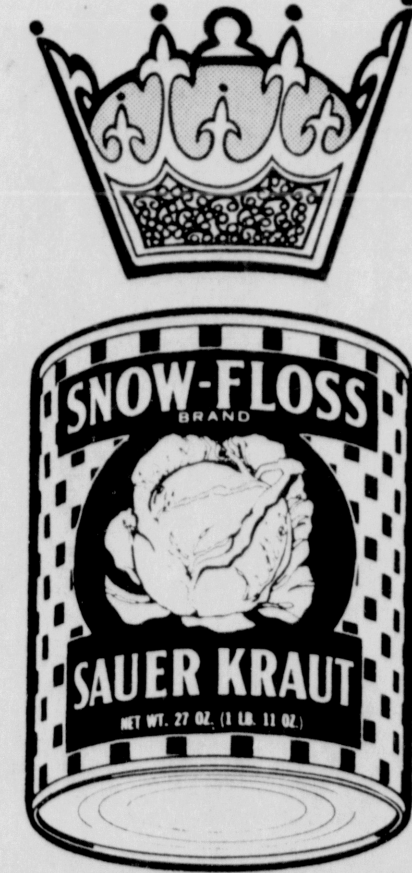

Toren Bensonhaver tallied 15, Dave Marshall nine, Dave Holbrook eight, Larry Reed seven, Roy Huffer four and Marc Albright two for the winners.

The eighth graders have a 10-3 record. Coach Jim Diltz reported he is looking for a junior high tournament he can enter the squad in. This is the end of the regular season games.

TV Eighth Graders Defeat Hamilton Twp.

The Teays Valley eighth grade basketball team defeated visiting Hamilton Twp. 36-33 Tuesday to end the season with a 7-6 record.

Dwane Hettinger scored 15 points, Ronnie Little 12 and Dennis Werner nine for the Vikings.

Free-Wheeling Play Marks New Look For Wittenberg

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Never accuse Wittenberg University's Coach Bob Hamilton of being a basketball traditionalist.

For 19 seasons, the Ohio Conference school has been known for its deliberate offense and stingy defense under Ray Mears, Eldon Miller and Hamilton.

Risking the ire of Tiger faithful when he junked the slow style of play this season, Hamilton has gotten away with a much speedier, free-wheeling game. "I didn't jump at this idea all at once," said Hamilton before practice Wednesday. His Tigers risk their Ohio Conference lead at Marietta Saturday night.

"We told our players, at the end of last season that we were considering this and it depended on their development," he said.

It was a tall switch for the 5-foot-6 Hamilton, who well knew the Wittenberg tradition as a two-year starter and coach.

The Wittenberg players developed so well Hamilton plays 10, sometime 11, in each game.

"He's like a traffic cop," said Don Perkins, the school's sport publicist,

"the way those kids shuffle in and out of the lineup."

Hamilton, a native of Glenford, has guided the Tigers to a 16-2 start under the swift pace. Wittenberg is averaging an unheard-of-75 points a game on offense.

"It's great for team morale," the Tiger coach said. "Our kids on the bench know they are going to play, even in the first half."

With fresh, talented players, Hamilton can substitute freely and apply the pressure to opponents.

"We like to put new players in when the tempo lags and speed it back up," he said.

Wittenberg is one of the most balanced teams in college basketball this winter with seven players averaging between 7.3 and 10.7 points.

Don Lynam leads the pack and Jim Evans, Eddie Ford, Skip Freeman, Tom Dunn, Clyde Eberhardt and Gary Lewis all are over seven points.

Backers of Hamilton's new style say, "So what if Wittenberg was 316-96 and had one NCAA national and nine conference titles with the snail's pace?" They prefer the swift, exciting style of 1973-74.

CHS Reserve Wrestlers Defeat DeSales, 33-21

The Circleville reserve wrestling squad defeated DeSales reserves 33-21 Tuesday.

"I was very pleased with the reserves in the way they all never gave up and wrestled aggressively and extremely well," coach Brent Bell reported. "This was the last meet for the reserves and they really made it count. We expanded our overall reserve program this year and with the way they all have improved our program can only keep going up from here on."

In the 98-pound class Brian Augustine of Circleville pinned Dixon in 3:24. Tom Marshall dropped a close 6-5 decision to Smith of DeSales in the 105-pound class.

Tony Dray came from behind in the last period to decision Palmerini 5-4 to take the 112-pound class for the Tigers. In the 119-pound class, Randy Swoyer of Circleville lost to Marinelli 5-0. Circleville forfeited the 126-pound class. In the 132-pound class Circleville's Jeff Lackey lost to Borghese 9-3.

In the 138-pound class Jim Heacock of Circleville lost to Walker 7-0. Pat McNaughton gave the Tigers a win in the 145 pound class pinning Rossi of DeSales in 1:04. Tom Strawser of Circleville lost to Cua of DeSales 2-0 in the 155-pound class.

At 167 pounds, Bruce Brudzinski pinned Murmane of DeSales in 2:33.

At 175 John Stout, who doubles as trainer for the Tiger wrestlers, decided Burrell of DeSales, 12-3. At 185 pounds, Tom England of Circleville decided Mayer 8-2. Scott Bowman took the heavyweight match pinning Craig in 1:16.

Circleville will host the South Central Ohio League match beginning 1 p.m. Saturday at the high school. In addition to Circleville, teams competing will be Miami Trace, Wilmington, Hillsboro and Madison Plains. Washington C.H. and Greenfield do not have wrestling programs.

Washington C.H. Top Seed In Unioto Tourney

Washington C. H., the number one team in the South Central Ohio League, was the top seed in the Unioto Sectional tournament.

The sectional there is scheduled Feb. 22, 23, 27, 28. On Feb. 22 Jackson and Oak Hill Play and on Feb. 23 Greenfield and Wellston tangle.

On Feb. 27 Washington C. H. plays the winner of the Oak Hill-Jackson game and on Feb. 28 Hillsboro plays the winner of the Wellston-Greenfield game. All games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Miami Trace plays in the AAA sectional at Rio Grande and meets Marietta Feb. 28. Marietta has an 11-5 record and Trace 10-6.

Study Under Way Of Beautiful Faces

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Beauty is in the eye of the beholder, and University of Illinois psychologists are trying to find out if beholders see beauty in the same faces.

This time it's men's faces, not women's faces, which are the object of attention.

Drs. Nancy Wiggins and Lawrence E. Jones showed photographs of 100 black and 100 white young men to a group of women students of both races.

The psychologists are trying to determine, from "emotionally neutral" poses, just what it is that women find attractive in men. Later they plan to do the same for women, with men doing the judging.

Dr. Wiggins said in an interview that black women found black males to have more desirable characteristics than they saw in the pictures of white males — sexiness, attractiveness, warmth, intelligence.

She said white women did not discriminate between black males and white males for these characteristics but did find the black males to appear more threatening and harmful.

Now the psychologists are looking at the physical characteristics of faces — eyebrow thickness, shape of face, mouth shape and width, forehead width, lip thickness, distance between eyes and appearance of nose, ears, hair and chins.

Dr. Wiggins said it appears that the eyes will be rated highest as a measure of physical attractiveness.

She said that, so far, the nose and ears don't seem to matter much. And, reflecting current styles, long hair on men was rated highly by white females, she said.

Little specific information is available on what makes a person attractive, Dr. Wiggins said.

She said she and her colleagues are interested because attractive people tend to be more successful than others, which may mean that people attribute desirable qualities to attractive persons.

It is also important for plastic surgeons to know what people consider attractive, to guide them in their work, she said.

She said the study also will explore whether people are attracted to persons who look like themselves.

She said the researchers also will try to determine what kind of body goes with what kind of face, in the eye of the beholder.

females, she said.

Little specific information is available on what makes a person attractive, Dr. Wiggins said.

She said she and her colleagues are interested because attractive people tend to be more successful than others, which may mean that people attribute desirable qualities to attractive persons.

It is also important for plastic surgeons to know what people consider attractive, to guide them in their work, she said.

She said the study also will explore whether people are attracted to persons who look like themselves.

She said the researchers also will try to determine what kind of body goes with what kind of face, in the eye of the beholder.

See Widespread Fertilizer Pinch

The Circleville Herald, Wednesday February 13, 1974

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fertilizer shortages are widespread as farmers rush to order supplies for 1974 production, says the Agriculture Department. "Several companies have told us that they are going to deliver more fertilizer to the domestic market than they delivered last year," USDA said Tuesday in a weekly report. "Even so, they say that this is not enough to supply farmers with the quantities they want."

Meantime, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., said a subcommittee he heads will hold hearings Feb. 19 on the fertilizer situation and its effect on the U.S. food supply. McGovern, in a statement, said 30 per cent of the nation's crop production is directly attributable to the availability of fertilizer. Goals for record crop output this year are important to help replenish dwindling stockpiles of grain, he said.

The USDA said reports show "farmers are not waiting until the last minute to buy fertilizer" and that sales in 14 key states indicate farmers during last July-November bought 35 per cent more than they did a year earlier. Nicholas H. Smith, director of USDA's energy office said in a statement accompanying the report that fertilizer supplies are partly tied to the availability of fuels. Natural gas is a source of nitrogen components, for example, and fuel is required to move fertilizer from plants to farm markets.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A midwinter drought in parts of the Great Plains is hurting prospects for 1974 winter wheat production, an Agriculture Department report showed today. "Winter wheat on the moisture-starved Texas high and low plains continued to deteriorate and much of the dryland crop there appears beyond recovery," a weekly weather bulletin said.

The report was for the week ended Feb. 11.

"Elsewhere in Texas, wheat and oats are in good condition," the report said. "Oklahoma winter wheat condition declined slightly as topsoils dried and cold nights limited growth." Farmers in Kansas and Oklahoma were busy applying nitrogen fertilizer, but supplies were said to be short in most areas of Kansas.

Jerky Both Convenient And Nutritional Flush Man From House

By JIM DAUBEL
Written For
The Associated Press
Dried meat known as jerky—standard fare in Indian and mountain men stories—no longer is the food staple it was in days before modern refrigeration.

But the passing of time has not diminished its value in terms of nutrition, portability and overall convenience in the out-of-doors.

Those are important factors when you can't take prepared foods with you, or when you don't want to interrupt hunting, fishing, backpacking or other outdoor pursuits to cook.

Jerky is red meat that has been salted, dried and, perhaps, smoked. It served the Indians and pioneers, who made it from deer, buffalo or other wild game, because it could be stored or transported for long periods without spoiling.

There are many ways of making jerky, but they all boil down to this: moisture is drawn out of the meat and salt is added as a preservative.

It's easy to make at home, although several fundamental rules should be kept in mind.

First, cut the meat into thin slices. Thick cuts are hard to dry.

Moisture is a breeding ground for bacteria which causes spoilage, so meat should be dried thoroughly, but not to the point that it becomes brittle.

Use lean red meat and remove all fat before curing.

In dry climates, jerky can be cured under a hot sun. Smokehouses also will do the job.

One of the simplest methods I know of is passed on by Al Wolters, outdoor writer and ranger with the Wayne National Forest near Ironton, Ohio.

Al recommends using venison or a lean cut of beef. Slice the meat in inch-wide strips about six inches long, and one-eighth of an inch thick. Meat that is partially frozen slices easiest.

Pile the strips between paper towels and weight them with an iron skillet overnight to press out moisture.

Brush the meat lightly on one side with a mixture of one part commercially bottled liquor smoke and two parts water.

Salt each strip liberally and evenly on both sides, place on a rack in the oven and allow to dry for at least six hours at 150 degrees, or lower.

Kept dry, the cured meat is tasty and can be kept without cooling for a long time.

Gander was selected as a transatlantic air base in 1935 by the British Air Ministry.

Bluefin tuna, caught off the coast of Newfoundland, weigh up to 800 pounds.

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)— Charges were expected to be filed today against Steve Coffey, 20, of Franklin after his arrest late Tuesday for allegedly holding two persons hostage in their home at gunpoint.

Police said Coffey would be charged with assault with a deadly weapon and aggravated burglary.

He was apprehended after more than 40 law officers surrounded the home of Albert Hounshell and used tear gas to drive Coffey out. Police said Coffey had entered the home carrying two rifles, two shotguns and a handgun.

Police said he held Mrs. Alva Hounshell and her 10-year-old son Jimmy at gunpoint. They said the tear gas bombardment came after Coffey was seen looking out a window and several shots were heard inside the home.

Brother And Sister Die In Trailer Fire

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP) — Michelle Linn Smith, 2, and her brother, William R. Smith Jr., 1, died Tuesday in a fire in their trailer home north of here.

The children's mother, Deborah said she found the trailer ablaze when she returned from a brief visit with her sister in a nearby mobile home.

Jerky Both Convenient And Nutritional Flush Man From House

By JIM DAUBEL
Written For
The Associated Press

Dried meat known as jerky—standard fare in Indian and mountain men stories—no longer is the food staple it was in days before modern refrigeration.

But the passing of time has not diminished its value in terms of nutrition, portability and overall convenience in the out-of-doors.

Those are important factors when you can't take prepared foods with you, or when you don't want to interrupt hunting, fishing, backpacking or other outdoor pursuits to cook.

Jerky is red meat that has been salted, dried and, perhaps, smoked. It served the Indians and pioneers, who made it from deer, buffalo or other wild game, because it could be stored or transported for long periods without spoiling.

There are many ways of making jerky, but they all boil down to this: moisture is drawn out of the meat and salt is added as a preservative.

It's easy to make at home, although several fundamental rules should be kept in mind.

First, cut the meat into thin slices. Thick cuts are hard to dry.

Moisture is a breeding ground for bacteria which causes spoilage, so meat should be dried thoroughly, but not to the point that it becomes brittle.

Use lean red meat and remove all fat before curing.

In dry climates, jerky can be cured under a hot sun. Smokehouses also will do the job.

One of the simplest methods I know of is passed on by Al Wolters, outdoor writer and ranger with the Wayne National Forest near Ironton, Ohio.

Al recommends using venison or a lean cut of beef. Slice the meat in inch-wide strips about six inches long, and one-eighth of an inch thick. Meat that is partially frozen slices easiest.

Pile the strips between paper towels and weight them with an iron skillet overnight to press out moisture.

Brush the meat lightly on one side with a mixture of one part commercially bottled liquor smoke and two parts water.

Salt each strip liberally and evenly on both sides, place on a rack in the oven and allow to dry for at least six hours at 150 degrees, or lower.

Kept dry, the cured meat is tasty and can be kept without cooling for a long time.

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)— Charges were expected to be filed today against Steve Coffey, 20, of Franklin after his arrest late Tuesday for allegedly holding two persons hostage in their home at gunpoint.

Police said Coffey would be charged with assault with a deadly weapon and aggravated burglary.

He was apprehended after more than 40 law officers surrounded the home of Albert Hounshell and used tear gas to drive Coffey out. Police said Coffey had entered the home carrying two rifles, two shotguns and a handgun.

Police said he held Mrs. Alva Hounshell and her 10-year-old son Jimmy at gunpoint. They said the tear gas bombardment came after Coffey was seen looking out a window and several shots were heard inside the home.

Guaranteed

EXTENDED TO FEB. 28th

We'll guarantee you a new home this Spring at the Fall '73 price. In writing!

Until January 31st, your Ridge Homes dealer can give you a written price guarantee that saves you hundreds of dollars on a new home.

Today, building costs are skyrocketing... and new home prices everywhere are going up hundreds and hundreds of dollars. But if you act now, you can protect your family's dream of owning a new home with Ridge Homes' written price guarantee. It assures you the Fall '73 price on all our models.

How the Guarantee Works

To get your price guarantee, you must see your Ridge Homes dealer and make a refundable deposit of only $100 before the January 31st deadline. Then, pick out the exact model you want... and accept delivery on your new home as late as June 30th.

If you change your mind later for any reason whatsoever, Ridge Homes will refund your deposit, every penny of it. You can't lose. You'll be saving hundreds of dollars over those higher '74 new home prices... and with plenty of time to turn up your plans to build.

And that's not all. If your local interest rates drop later, you can reduce your monthly payments by converting to a local mortgage. And with Ridge Homes you won't pay the costly prepayment penalty that most others charge.

Don't delay—see your Ridge Homes dealer TODAY. Make your $100 refundable deposit and get your price guarantee before the January 31st deadline. Then, you'll be protected no matter how high prices go, and you'll be saving hundreds of dollars on your new home.

But you must get this Guarantee before January 31st.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Meet and discuss plans with others involved, but don't be dismayed if you run into petty quibbling. Overlook minor differences to attain the more important objectives.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): If a proposed plan or project is well-advised, try it, even though it is unique. It just could prove to be one of your more interesting challenges.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): The "usual way" may not be good enough now. But take care not to go too far out on the experimental limb. Resourcefulness, excellent in this sign, needed.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Avoid present tendencies to scatter energies and to start too many things at one time. Neither enter into new activities without thorough investigation.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Curb a tendency toward lethargy now. An indifferent attitude could cause you to lose out on good opportunities.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Your planetary set-up highly auspicious. A good day for pushing ahead with important issues—especially those involving business and finance.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Your Venus continues to encourage artistic endeavors. A unique creative job should work out exceptionally well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): If you've had difficulty in launching a pet project because of opposition, you'll get chance to prove a significant point shortly after noon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Stimulating influences. An unexpected happening in the forenoon could lead to an unplanned—and profitable—trip.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Care needed in matters of communication. Misinterpretation of a letter or a message could lead to errors or misunderstandings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Personal relationships under excellent influences. A good day for benefitting through friends and close associates.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Caution urged in financial matters. Pay no heed to reckless friends who urge you to spend foolishly.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by one of the zodiac's stimulating configurations. You can excel as executive, in statesmanship, the law, the arts. The Aquarian's flair for entertainment is evident even in their home life, where they make delightful party hosts, raconteurs. Your courage, independence and generosity are outstanding. You will share your assets with others, but often demand your own way from all—and obstinately. Try to overcome this, along with excessive pride in your achievements.

Views On Television Schedule

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC-TV tonight is airing a show that may be particularly frightening to those who say they've no doubts about their ability to handle booze. They, above all, should see it.

The show, "The Morning After," stars Dick Van Dyke as Charlie Lester, a well-liked, successful oil company public relations man whose mornings after increasingly are becoming more than just the inside sweat.

It's not just a tale about the downfall of a corporate lusher.

Rather, it's a chilling, sip-by-sip study, stirred with a heavy swizzle stick for dramatic emphasis, of how easily any "social drinker" can slide into alcoholism without realizing there's no way he or she can handle any kind of drinking.

On the surface, the 43-year-old hero of "The Morning After" has a life most would envy — a fat salary, the respect of his employer, a good family, a home in Los Angeles' exclusive Pacific Palisades area.

And his tipping isn't the cheery "I'll drink to that!" style we commonly attribute to the public lusher. He sips politely, ostensibly pacing his intake for the first few rounds.

The show brilliantly outlines the danger signs every member of Alcoholics Anonymous can recite on cue — post-bottle losses of memory, increased solo drinking, defensiveness about drinking.

One part in which it lags is a not-too-realistic scene in which he blubbers to a psychiatrist that his booze problems all stem from lack of self-respect caused by an unhappy childhood. But the rest of it is all there — the alternate nagging and forgiveness of his wife, threats by his boss to can him if the boozing continues, the frequent pledges to quit or cut down.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

Ohio became the 33rd state to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment when the full Senate passed the resolution this week. The House had previously passed the measure.

Now that Ohio has approved the ERA five more states must take similar action for the amendment to become part of the United States Constitution. The ERA guarantees all legal rights to women.

The Ohio Lottery Commission chose Cleveland to house the headquarters of the state lottery.

Main considerations mentioned by Commission members in the selection were Cleveland's computer facilities, expectations that Cleveland will be the major market for ticket sales and the fact that while Cleveland is our most

Harrisburg Man Honored

Lem Zimmer, an elderly Harrisburg man who is continually picking up litter during his walks through the Harrisburg community, Tuesday evening received the Governor's Award for Community Action in recognition of his efforts.

State Rep. Myrl Shoemaker, D-Bourneville, presented the award to Zimmer on behalf of Gov. John J. Gilligan during ceremonies in his (Zimmer's) honor at the Harrisburg Methodist Church.

Zimmer's actions are well-known and have been praised by the local townspeople including Mayor Delbert Johnson who was on hand for the presentation.

Governor Gilligan commended Zimmer for "demonstrating a keen sensitivity to Ohio's environmental problems and a deep sense of pride in his community."

About the Governor's Award for Community Action, Governor Gilligan said, "Thousands of our fellow Ohioans contribute their talent, time and energy to helping their fellow citizens, and most of them are never properly recognized for their contributions. Through the Governor's Award for Community Action, we hope to bring to many of these people the recognition and the respect in their community they so richly deserve."

Nominations for the award are submitted by various state agencies, by members of the news media and by ordinary citizens who feel a fellow citizen deserves special recognition.

There is no quota on the number of awards which can be given out. No one is in competition with any one else for this award. As Governor Gilligan said, "It is simply a way for the people of Ohio to say 'thanks' to a fellow citizen who has contributed to the common good."

Zimmer received a personal letter from the Governor prepared on parchment and bearing the Great Seal of the State of Ohio. The letter cited his particular contribution.

The Governor's Award for Community Action is meant to recognize a broad range of contributors—people who are working to clean up the environment, working with kids who are on drugs, helping the sick or the handicapped, or helping the poor.

populous city, it ranks low in the number of state employees.

The state lottery, which pays for itself, is expected to bring more than 100 jobs and a $1 million payroll to Cleveland.

In other legislative action this week the legislature gave quick approval to a bill which eliminates the need for a short-term election to fill a vacancy in the United States Senate.

The bill, which carries an emergency clause to give it immediate effect, will repeal a section of existing law that requires a dual election in November to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of United States Senator William Saxbe.

Howard Metzgerbaum has been appointed to fill the vacancy, but his appointment will expire December 15, when a successor, elected in November, is certified to serve the balance of the term ending January 3, 1975. There would have also been an election in November to select a person to serve the new six-year term beginning January 3.

The bill waves the requirement for a short-term election for a vacancy that expires in less than two years.

Venerable disease education may be part of the curriculum for grades seven through twelve if a House-passed bill is okayed by the Senate.

By a vote of 70 to 14, the House made venerable disease education part of the health and physical education course that already includes instruction in the harmful effects of the legal restrictions against the use of drugs of abuse, alcohol, and tobacco.

Under the bill the Board of education offering the course will send a written notice to the parent or guardian of each child who is to be enrolled in the course. The parent then will have the opportunity to make a written request to the board that his child not take the course. The board will decide whether or not this child must take the course.

Truck Halt All But Over Across Ohio

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Except for one group of independent truckers centered in the Akron area, the truckers' protest appears to be about over in Ohio.

George Rynn, leader of one faction of the Council of Independent Truckers, has said his group is continuing the shutdown. Rynn, who is demanding a rollback in fuel prices, reportedly met in Washington, D.C., Tuesday with Special Presidential Assistant W. J. Usery Jr.

He is to tell council members about those talks in a meeting tonight at Barberton.

Meanwhile, Carl Bray, a leader of the protest in southwestern Ohio, said truckers in that area voted Tuesday to follow the lead of most other drivers around the nation and return to work immediately.

Bray said about 500 truckers attended the meeting.

Gov. John J. Gilligan said reports of violence on the state's highways had virtually ended, and the Ohio National Guard force which was called up last week was ordered sent home.

A National Guard spokesman said about 1,500 troops—the second relief force called up in the 10-day operation—were sent back to their individual armories.

A total of about 4,000 troops had served during the call-up.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

Ohio became the 33rd state to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment when the full Senate passed the resolution this week. The House had previously passed the measure.

Now that Ohio has approved the ERA five more states must take similar action for the amendment to become part of the United States Constitution. The ERA guarantees all legal rights to women.

The Ohio Lottery Commission chose Cleveland to house the headquarters of the state lottery.

Main considerations mentioned by Commission members in the selection were Cleveland's computer facilities, expectations that Cleveland will be the major market for ticket sales and the fact that while Cleveland is our most

Harrisburg Man Honored

Lem Zimmer, an elderly Harrisburg man who is continually picking up litter during his walks through the Harrisburg community, Tuesday evening received the Governor's Award for Community Action in recognition of his efforts.

State Rep. Myrl Shoemaker, D-Bourneville, presented the award to Zimmer on behalf of Gov. John J. Gilligan during ceremonies in his (Zimmer's) honor at the Harrisburg Methodist Church.

Zimmer's actions are well-known and have been praised by the local townspeople including Mayor Delbert Johnson who was on hand for the presentation.

Governor Gilligan commended Zimmer for "demonstrating a keen sensitivity to Ohio's environmental problems and a deep sense of pride in his community."

About the Governor's Award for Community Action, Governor Gilligan said, "Thousands of our fellow Ohioans contribute their talent, time and energy to helping their fellow citizens, and most of them are never properly recognized for their contributions. Through the Governor's Award for Community Action, we hope to bring to many of these people the recognition and the respect in their community they so richly deserve."

Nominations for the award are submitted by various state agencies, by members of the news media and by ordinary citizens who feel a fellow citizen deserves special recognition.

There is no quota on the number of awards which can be given out. No one is in competition with any one else for this award. As Governor Gilligan said, "It is simply a way for the people of Ohio to say 'thanks' to a fellow citizen who has contributed to the common good."

Zimmer received a personal letter from the Governor prepared on parchment and bearing the Great Seal of the State of Ohio. The letter cited his particular contribution.

The Governor's Award for Community Action is meant to recognize a broad range of contributors—people who are working to clean up the environment, working with kids who are on drugs, helping the sick or the handicapped, or helping the poor.
